Johnson Asks $2.2 Billion Security Hike

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — President Johnson called today for congressional action next year to increase Social Security benefits an average 10 per cent. House Republicans countered with a call for immediate action.

Addressing a Social Security awards ceremony here, Johnson proposed increases totaling at least $2.2 billion a year in benefits to become effective Jan. 1, 1968.

The 10 per cent increase he proposed would average $8.50 a month for each pensioner. He suggested also a minimum monthly check of $100—compared with the present $44—for anyone with 25 years of coverage.

But even as he was speaking, Republican members of the House of Representatives in Washington adopted a resolution saying Congress should not adjourn before acting on the proposal.

It was a game of political one-upmanship with a highly emotional proposal less than a month before the congressional elections.

Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., senior minority member of the Ways and Means Committee, said statistics show a "gap" of 7 per cent between income of retired persons and the increase in living costs.

He said the committee could prepare legislation for passage within the next several weeks.

Maryland's largest city was the first stop on a two-day presidential tour that will have avowedly political aspects.

Arsonist Parolee Reported Seeking Deadly Revenges

MALCOLM R. SCHLETTE
Threat list disclosed

A Marin arsonist, with a reprisal list of men he allegedly marked for death, was sought today as a fugitive, two days after his release on parole following 11 years in prison.

The fugitive is Malcom R. Schlette, 52. A circular distributed to Marin Sheriff's officers said he "should be considered armed and extremely dangerous."

Schlette was released Monday from Vacaville State Hospital after a period of mental observation following granting of parole by the California Adult Authority. His elderly mother picked him up from the hospital to take him to Santa Rosa, where he was to report to the Sonoma County sheriff's office at 1 p.m. for parole to her. She stopped in Napa to allow him to enter a department store to make some purchases. He disappeared.

The sheriff's circular listed six Marin residents who, he said, Schlette has threatened.

Heading the list were Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court, who presided at Schlette's 1955 trial in which he was convicted of setting fire to the Bleu Baie Tavern on Tomales Bay, and William O. Weissich, who as district attorney was prosecutor in the trial.

Also on the list was Charles Daniels of San Rafael, who as an insurance investigator delved into arson in two fires at the Bleu Baie Tavern and one at the Lodge in San Rafael, all of which Schlette was suspected of setting.

Others listed as threatened were private detective Nick Giampoli, who as a San Rafael police inspector investigated the Lodge fire, and Undersheriff Sidney Stinson and Deputy Sheriff William Christensen, who investigated two fires at the Bleu Baie.

Schlette was convicted of setting fire to the tavern on Sept. 9, 1954. His former wife, who was in the building at the time,

Novatan Aids In Capture Of Gunman

Being vice president of a savings and loan firm sometimes gets exciting, running into such things as tailing robbery suspects, ducking behind cars to dodge guns, and helping police make an arrest.

Richard Garner, 42, of 230 Calle De la Mesa, Novato, vice president of Franklin Savings and Loan Co. on Market Street in San Francisco, found this out all at once at 3:30 p.m. yesterday.

He and assistant vice president Robert Fitzgerald of Mountain View entered their building just as a robbery suspect was

One Driver Dies, Second Escapes Almost Unhurt In Head-On Wreck

The driver of the other car, Sharon A. Gebhardt, 20, of Petaluma, escaped serious injury despite the total wreckage of her automobile. She was treated at Novato General Hospital for a cut forehead and a puncture wound on the left leg.

Mrs. Gebhardt, a veterinary assistant, told California Highway Patrolman William Medin she was southbound to work at the Animal Clinic of Novato at about 7:45 a.m. when a small red car cut in front of her.

Mrs. Gebhardt said she applied her brakes and her car careened across the center dividing strip into the northbound lanes.

Medin estimated there were about 90 feet of tire marks on the highway before Mrs. Gebhardt's car crossed the strip and collided with Carlson's northbound auto.

Carlson was the 21st traffic fatality in Marin this year. The same number died last year by this date.

Neither Mrs. Gebhardt nor Carlson was using a safety belt, Medin said.

Carlson is survived by his father, who is a patient in a nursing home, and by a grown son and daughter, according to Gehrke Realty of Santa Rosa, with which he was associated.

Carlson's body was taken to Chapel of Marin in Novato for autopsy.

Fairfax Residence Destroyed By Fire

Fire gutted the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Brown at 102 Forrest Avenue, Fairfax, early today, causing damage estimated at $16,000.

The blaze began in the upstairs living room, which the Browns had been remodeling. Mrs. Brown discovered drapes burning at 6:45 a.m., grabbed her two dogs and two cats, and called the Fairfax Fire Department.

Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton said the flames mushroomed through the living room and spread to the roof and gutted the upstairs of the two-level home.

Eleven firemen extinguished the blaze within 15 minutes of their arrival, using two trucks and calling the assistance of San Anselmo Fire Department to pump from a hydrant.

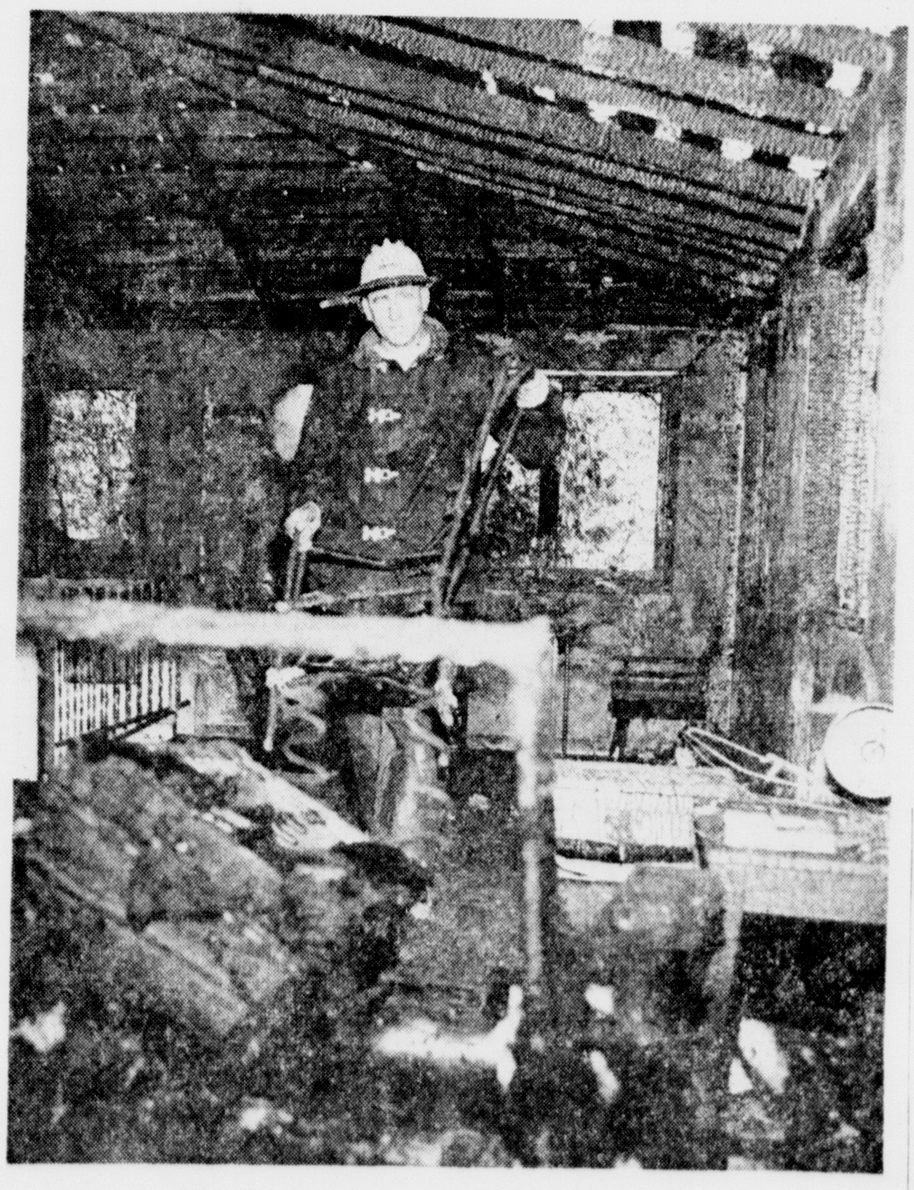

This was the second early morning fire for Fairfax firemen in two days. Yesterday an unoccupied house on Manor Hill burned to the ground at 4:25 a.m. It had been scheduled for demolition and loss was estimated at $3,500.

Chief Thornton said the cause of today's fire was undetermined. Mrs. Brown had been in the living room earlier and no fire was apparent then.

Damage to the house was estimated at $12,000 and to the contents at $4,000.

The home was insured, and Mrs. Brown said, "Although this hurts to see the remodeling and all the nails you've pounded, go up in flames, we'll start working on the house again."

Brown had left for work in San Francisco before the fire and was summoned home by telephone.

Pentagon Lowers November Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon today cut the November draft call by 6,100 men to 37,600 and announced that 12,100 men will be inducted in December, the lowest total since March 1965.

A Defense Department announcement said the original draft call of 43,700 for November was being reduced because of "a greater than expected number of enlistments and reenlistments in recent months."

The Pentagon said no men will be inducted between Dec. 16 and Jan. 1, 1967, because of the Christmas season.

McNamara Visits Front; Ky Has Cabinet Trouble

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara toured quieted battle sectors of South Viet Nam today as 4,000 fresh American combat troops arrived in the country.

The new troops, the last contingent of the 4th Infantry Division, brought the American force in Viet Nam to 325,000 men.

As the buildup continued, ground fighting subsided into small skirmishes. But on the political front dissension flared between northerners and southerns in Premier Nguyen Cao Kys cabinet. Five civilian ministers from the Mekong Delta were reported threatening to resign.

The United States has moved nearly three divisions near the demilitarized zone (DMZ) to meet an expected major monsoon offensive by the Communists and plans to saturate the zone with the heaviest bombing of the war if the attack materializes, it was reported today.

Military sources said the Air Force hit targets in the zone and supply routes in the North Viet Nam panhandle just above the DMZ yesterday and that if the monsoon offensive comes it is ready to hit North Vietnamese troops with the most intense, prolonged bombing of the war.

Recent U.S. Marine operations are believed to have slowed the North Vietnamese plans but Marines today discovered a North Vietnamese company probing their positions

Chaplin Takes An Unfunny Fall

Chaplin

Chaplin, who is 77, was walking back from the studio commissary after lunch with his assistant, Jerry Epstein, when he tripped and fell on some rough ground, an associate said.

Chaplin was unable to rise and Epstein helped him up and carried him to a nearby room.

He was then taken to hospital where his injury was examined and his ankle put in a plaster cast.

Chaplin has been editing the final version of his first movie in a decade, "The Countess From Hong Kong," starring Marlon Brando and Sophia Loren.

Court Order Halts Rail Strike

Perry

T. E. Desch, general counsel of the railroad, went to Judge Perry's home in suburban Glen Ellyn to ask the order, a company spokesman said.

The judge's order is effective until a hearing he scheduled for Oct. 22.

A railroad spokesman said the order would take effect just as soon as it could be served against "various union officers" in Chicago and other cities. He did not name the officers.

He said railroad operations would resume "as soon as the orders are served" except for the Rock Island's Chicago suburban service, which he said probably would not resume for the rush hours today.

The strike halted freight traffic over the line's 14-state system and forced about 14,000 commuters in the Chicago area to find other modes of transportation.

Melvin Weds Pat, Shinto Style

SAPPORO, Japan (AP)—San Francisco attorney Melvin Belli and fashion model Pat Montandon donned traditional Japanese wedding costumes today and were married in a Shinto ceremony here on Japan's northernmost main island of Hokkaido.

With a Shinto priest presiding in the Hokkaido Shinto shrine, Belli, 59, and Miss Montando, 34, pledged to love each other eternally. It is his fourth marriage and her third.

The couple placed a twig of the sacred sakaki tree before the altar and exchanged "sansan-kudo" or three-times-three cups of rice wine. The priest then declared them man and wife.

U.S. Thinks Reds Decent To POWs

WASHINGTON (AP) — For scores of hopeful and worried American families, U.S. officials had good news: Their captured or missing husbands and sons may be receiving decent treatment as prisoners of war in North Viet Nam.

The officials revealed yesterday the United States now has some evidence that American pilots held in prisons by the Hanoi government apparently are not being mistreated or brainwashed.

SCANTY EVIDENCE

"The fragmentary and unreliable evidence we have is that they're being decently treated," a high State Department source involved in POW negotiations said. "There's no indication of brutality or mistreatment in the North."

The official added: "But we don't like to say they're not being mistreated when we can't get anyone in" to inspect the POW camps.

MAY BE 200

Recent government statistics show that 54 men are known to be POWs, 65 are suspected captives and about 140 pilots are missing in North Viet Nam.

Many military sources, however, believe that as many as 200 pilots are imprisoned in North Vietnamese POW camps.

For their wives and families information is scarce. Some wives have told how they learned their husbands were alive only after seeing their photographs in propaganda pictures released by North Viet Nam.

RED CROSS REBUFF

The United States and the International Committee of the Red Cross have been rebuffed in all attempts to establish lines of communication with North Viet Nam. U.S. officials have made it plain that there is little hope of negotiating the pilots' release without an over-all settlement of the war.

Shotgun Tragedy Occurs Once Again

EL CAJON (AP)—A shotgun which accidentally discharged 30 years ago and killed a man has gone off again and taken the life of the victim's son.

Merton L. Mizer, 59, died yesterday at El Cajon Valley Hospital, where authorities said he told them of the tragic coincidence. Mizer was taking the gun from a trailer at his home when it discharged.

Dirksen Mum On Kuchel Ouster Hint

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., took a neutral position yesterday on a possible move by party conservatives next January to dump Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., as assistant Senate GOP leader.

Dirksen, the minority leader, said he doesn't know whether there will be an effort to replace Kuchel because the California senator has declined to support the bid of Ronald Reagan for the governor's office in his home state.

There have been reports, however, that the conservatives may support one of their own group, Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska, for the assistant leader post. Conservatives outnumber liberals among the 33 Republican senators.

Kuchel, a liberal, has maintained political silence since the nomination of Reagan, a conservative, to oppose Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Accidentals, in music, are signs signifying that the notes to which they are attached have to be raised, lowered or restored to their original pitch, as the case may be.

Seagulls Cause Rough Landing For Chopper

MOUNTAIN VIEW (AP) — A helicopter on a scheduled flight made an emergency landing on San Francisco Bay yesterday after two seagulls were sucked into the air intake of its jet turbines.

None of the five persons aboard was injured although two of the five main rotor blades were damaged in the splashdown near the Mountain View sewage disposal plant.

The San Francisco-Oakland Helicopter Airlines craft was en route from San Francisco International Airport to San Jose. Aboard were two passengers and a crew of three.

Lawrence Liddle of San Leandro, the pilot, said the gulls got into the turbines while the chopper was flying at 500 feet. Pontoons cushioned the landing.

Passengers were Ralph Brown, 46, of Omaha, Neb., and Dorothy Bowman, 47, of Baltimore. Other crewmen were copilot Gary Richmond of San Jose and flight attendant Burt Robertson of Oakland.

Since SFO started service in 1960, no passenger has been injured on its 200,000 flights.

Sun Oil Head Denies Birchism

LOS ANGELES (AP) — J. Howard Pew, chairman of the Sun Oil Co., denies Gov. Brown's statements that he is a major contributor to the John Birch Society.

In a statement released by the company yesterday, Pew said that contrary to statements Brown made in Fremont this week:

"I am not, nor have I ever been, a member of the John Birch Society. I am not a contributor to the John Birch Society. I am not a stockholder of Robert Welch, Inc., and I am not a member of the editorial advisory committee of American Opinion (a magazine Welch publishes)."

Johnson Resets Visit

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said today President Johnson will start his official visit to Thailand on Oct. 28 instead of Oct. 27 as originally scheduled.

LBJ, GOP Both Favor Social Security Hike

York City and the annual Columbus Day parade — plus some speechmaking urged upon him by Frank O'Connor, the Democratic candidate for governor, and Democratic House members seeking re-election.

After an overnight stay in Manhattan, the chief executive is to meet tomorrow morning with Prince Souvanna Phouma, neutralist prime minister of Laos, which borders Viet Nam.

Administration officials said the cost of Johnson's "minimum" package would be $2.2 billion and that about $1.5 billion of this could be financed under present and scheduled Social Security taxes.

They said the balance might be funded by a higher pay roll tax, by raising the present $6,600 limit for taxable annual income, or a combination of the two.

"There he goes!" a teller shouted.

Garner and Fitzgerald followed the man. About halfway down the street, the man stopped. "You'd better stop following me," he said.

"I don't see why," said Garner.

With that the man pulled a pistol from his pocket. "This is why," he said.

Garner and Fitzgerald ducked behind a car, but soon started following again. In a few moments a patrol car came by, the executives flagged it down, and police took the suspect into custody.

Officers said that James Wallace Bergantz, 37, of San Francisco, had $1,016 in currency, taken from the firm—and a toy pistol.

Couple May Get $20,000 For Tragedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Half Moon Bay, Calif., couple may receive $20,000 from the U.S. government for the loss of two teen-age sons killed in the explosion of a shell found on an Army range in 1944.

A bill which would settle in full the claims of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Loader was passed by the House and sent to the U.S. Senate yesterday.

The House Judiciary Committee said that the Army did not adequately guard the Montara firing range, near Half Moon Bay, where a playmate of the Loader boys found the live 47-millimeter, armor-piercing shell.

Brought to the Loaders' garage, the shell exploded and killed Maurice Loader Jr., 14, and his brother Frederic, 13. Two other children were injured.

The accident happened Oct. 15, 1944. The range was used by the Army for anti-invasion maneuvers during World War II.

Movies will be shown in most Mill Valley schools next week to explain how UNICEF funds are used.

Supervisors Delay Action On 39 Lots

Marin County supervisors yesday delayed action on variances needed for 39 lots in Marin Highlands Unit 3, west of Novato, and suggested that developers Roberts and Aguirre redesign the tract.

The variances were needed to reduce set backs and thus cut down on the amount of excavation for lots. The delay came after Supervisor William A. Gnoss reported no success in his try for cooperation from the developers.

Residents of earlier developed units have protested the variances, and said they sould not be allowed unless Roberts and Aguire are required to install a horse path shown in the original master plan but not in subsequent maps.

Gnoss said he talked with Roberts last Monday "and I'm sorry to say he got very much excited and said he would not appear at this meeting. He should be willing to trade, but he doesn't seem to want to play ball."

Cycle Passenger Hurt In Collision

Anita Ciceri was riding as a passenger on a motorcycle operated by Charles S. Sollars, 15, of San Francisco, at Litho Street and Bridgeway when a second cycle, ridden by Peter M. La Rocca, 18, of San Francisco, clipped the rear of Sollar's vehicle, upsetting it, police said.

Miss Ciceri was reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital. Sollars and La Rocca were cited for carrying passengers with learners' permits, and La Rocca for following too closely.

Rec Commissioners Discuss Teen Dances

Belvedere parks and recreation commissioners last night discussed having a public meeting for the youth of Belvedere to find out if there is enough interest to warrant reviving the teen-age dances sponsored by the commission.

Rev. Llewllyn A. White volunteered to discuss the possibility of combining Belvedere youth activities with those in Tiburon. He said he will talk with George McKegney, chairman of the Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission.

Tiburon's downtown plan and future plans for maintenance and beautification of Belvedere areas were also discussed.

McNamara spent so much time at a briefing at the field headquarters of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry at Phu Cat he was forced to cancel an intended visit to the Communist Horror camp discovered yesterday by Cavalry troops.

From Phu Cat, the cavalry's forward command post for Operation Irving, which has virtually wiped out the Communist 610 Division in three weeks of fighting, the kahki-clad McNamara visited American troops in a field hospital at Qui Nhon and then flew to Da Nang.

There he boarded a plane to fly to the 7th Fleet carrier Oriskany to spend the night.

From the Oriskany and two other American carriers in the South China Sea, U.S. Navy pilots flew 72 bombing missions yesterday over North Viet Nam while Air Force and Marine pilots flew 66.

U.S. fliers also hit the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam with 12 bombing missions yesterday.

No planes were reported lost over the North, but the U.S. command said Communist groundfire in South Viet Nam brought down a U.S. Air Force F100 Supersabre today 32 miles southwest of Can Tho, in the southern province of Kien Giang. The two crewmen were rescued unhurt by an Army helicopter, a spokesman said.

The dissension in Ky's cabinet stemmed from traditional suspicion and mistrust between leaders from South Viet Nam's southern provinces and those from North Viet Nam and the Northern provinces of South Viet Nam. But the resignation threat apparently was timed to exert maximum political leverage, coming as it did two weeks before Ky is to attend the Manila summit conference on Viet Nam.

Sources said the threatened walkout stemmed from the arrest of a high official in the health department who was suspected of "overt southern political planning."

Boat Victims' Search Ends

The Coast Guard last night suspended its search for two San Francisco men, lost in San Francisco Bay waters after the 32-foot sloop they were aboard capsized off Angel Island Monday afternoon.

No trace of the men, Gilbert Williamson and Donald Heydt, was found during a search of waters off the Berkeley shoreline and between Tiburon and Alcatraz Island yesterday.

Heydt was identified by the Coast Guard as the owner and operator of the sloop, the Intrepid.

Five other persons aboard were plucked from water late Monday by rescue vessels. None were hospitalized.

Missing City Youth Picked Up On Bridge

A San Francisco 17-year-old, who said he had taken LSD and was "on a trip," was taken into custody by the California Highway Patrol on the Golden Gate Bridge early today and sent to San Francisco Juvenile Hall.

LeRoy Jackson of San Francisco picked up the youth, who was hitchhiking. He reported the youth acted strangely, so he drove to the bridge and alerted a toll taker, who called the highway patrol. The youth had been missing three weeks from his home, his father told the patrol.

School Bonds Of $118,000 Sold To Bank

San Anselmo School District Bonds for $118,000 were sold yesterday to the Bank of America at an interest rate of 4.3302 per cent, allaying fears of Marin school districts that high interest rates may price school bonds out of the market.

Marin County Board of Supervisors opened four bids for the bonds, which will be used to construct additions to Hidden Valley School.

Bank of America was low bidder. The next two bids were quite close and the highest was 4.8 per cent.

Last month all school district boards were cautioned by the county counsel to award no contract for further construction until the bonds to finance it have been sold, because interest rates are nearing 5 per cent. This is the maximum allowed by law that school districts are permitted to pay on borrowed money.

Yesterday's comparatively low bids were a good omen for other school districts, including San Rafael Elementary and Dixie, who will each sell school bonds this year.

Hospital Lets Contract For Air Cooling

The Marin Hospital District board last night awarded a $26,397 contract for air conditioning part of the hospital to Dill and Sederberg of Mill Valley, low bidder.

Three bids were taken. High bidder was North Bay Electric Works of San Rafael, at $34,756. The project had been estimated at $30,000.

The board accepted the resignation of director of nursing Martha Holmes, who has accepted a job as director of nursing education at Redwood College, and appointed Mrs. Theresa Ramirez and Miss Ilona Bellak as co-directors of nursing until Mrs. Holmes' job is filled.

The board learned that the hospital volunteers will sponsor the San Francisco premier of the film "Grand Prix," Jan. 26 at the Golden Gate Theater, to raise funds for volunteer projects.

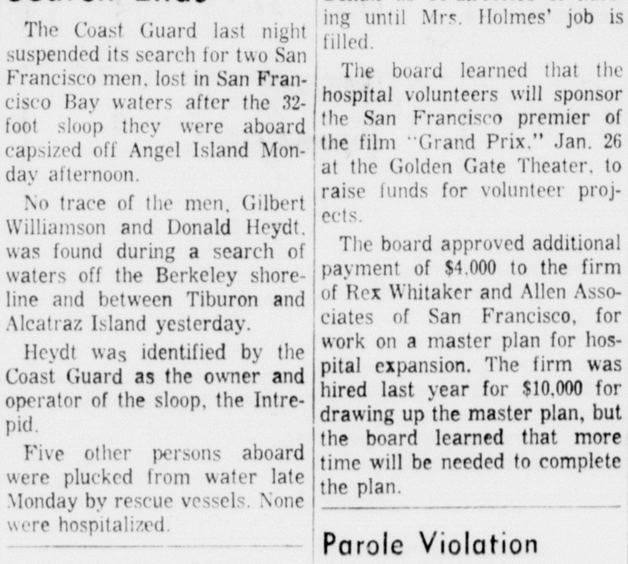

The board approved additional payment of $4,000 to the firm of Rex Whitaker and Allen Associates of San Francisco, for work on a master plan for hospital expansion. The firm was hired last year for $10,000 for drawing up the master plan, but the board learned that more time will be needed to complete the plan.

Parole Violation Arrest Reported

Kenneth L. Windes, 23, of 2045 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, was booked for violation of parole yesterday after he allegedly stabbed a man with a kitchen knife during an argument.

The victim, Robert E. Suttles of 228 Belle Avenue, San Rafael, had gone to the Fifth Avenue address with his fiance, Marlene Burke, to speak with Windes' girlfriend, Peggy Kimberly, police said. Windes reportedly became angry during the conversation and stabbed Suttles on the left forearm.

The Bleu Baie Tavern burned to the ground in a second fire on Feb 23, 1955. Schlette was accused of setting that fire also, but a jury failed to agree.

Eight persons lost their lives in the fire which destroyed the Lodge at San Rafael Avenue and Grove Street in San Rafael on March 7, 1955. Schlette, who was a tenant at the Lodge, was grilled by police who said he told conflicting stories about how he happened to be outside, fully clothed, when the building caught fire late at night. He was never charged with setting the blaze.

Schlette was described on the sheriff's circular as weighing 190 pounds, with thinning brown-gray hair and blue eyes.

$17,000 College Fund Drive Viewed

College of Marin Foundation board of directors last night heard plans for a $17,000 February fund raising drive for college scholarships.

Drive chairman Jack Younger said the drive will be made by mail and personal appeals and said he is organizing committees to conduct the drive.

The board approved $500 for emergency loans to students this semester from the foundation's $11,235 balance.

Charles Herndon, college financial aids counselor, said about 275 students are receiving some form of financial aid. Most of them are in the college's work-study program.

Bagley Theme: Tax Reforms

"Property tax reform legislation will be my number one priority item when the Legislature convenes next January," Assemblyman William T. Bagley declared last night before the Mill Valley Lions Club.

"Many legislators will refuse to consider proposed increases in state revenue unless definitive property tax relief is secured as part of a revenue package," said Bagley. "That certainly will be my view."

Bagley proposed the establishment of a "property tax reduction fund." Local government and school districts would draw state monies from that fund, within fixed maximums, only by first guaranteeing the reduction of local property taxes by a like amount.

No Stand Taken On Propositions

The Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce last night reviewed the propositions on the November ballot, but took no stand on any of them.

The proposition review took the place of a scheduled address by Marin Municipal Water District General Mgr. William R. Seeger, who canceled his appearance. Seeger had been expected to discuss Point Reyes residents' request that the district take over their water services.

LOTS OF BURNED GRAIN

The Northwest Grain elevator at Portland, Ore., collapses in the background as it is enveloped by fire. Damage in yesterday's fire was estimated at $2.5 million. (UPI Telephoto)

Inez's Legacy, Rain, Leaves More Homeless

TAMPICO, Mexico (UPI) — Heavy new rains, the legacy of Hurricane Inez, drove thousands from their homes across populous northeastern Mexico today. Officials estimated the number of refugees at 30,000.

Inez caused widespread destruction and at least one death in the area before smashing to its death in the Sierra Madre range Monday night. First estimates placed damage, mostly to cotton crops, at $40 million.

Before striking the coast north of here with 135-mile-an-hour winds, Inez had killed nearly 300 persons on an erratic 16-day rampage through the Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico.

Its winds were no longer a threat, but officials today feared the heavy rains could add to the destruction.

Pay TV Firm Too Broke To Reorganize

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Subscription Television Inc., the pay - television firm that once operated in California, has no plans to go back into business immediately.

The U.S. Supreme Court upheld Monday a California Supreme Court ruling that a 1964 ballot measure outlawing pay-TV was unconstitutional, on grounds it violates free speech guarantees.

But Subscription Television, driven into bankruptcy by the measure, still has problems.

"We don't have the funds" to resume operations at this time, said a company official Tuesday in New York, where the firm moved after passage of the 1964 Proposition 15.

The official said a bankruptcy referee recently approved a $600,000 arrangement with creditors, but: "There are no immediate plans to re-enter pay-TV in California because any money that will become available to us will be used in operating new properties. Entering pay - TV now is very expensive."

Other properties, the official said, include Fresno television station KJEO and the Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies.

'Black Power' Conference Compromise Eyed At U.C.

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) —A compromise was in the works at the University of California last night that would allow a "Black Power" conference to be held on-campus Oct. 29.

"A few details remain to be worked out before the final recommendation is made on the question to Chancellor Roger W. Heyns," said Dean of Students Arleigh Williams. Williams and an assistant met with represen-Democratic Society (SDS) for four hours.

University officials had earlier rejected an SDS request to hold the "White Kids and Black Power" conference in Sproul Plaza, scene of the controversial Free Speech Movement in 1964. SDS is a national student political organization considered part of the so- alled New Left.

Among those invited to speak was Stokely Carmichael, an advocate of "Black Power." Carmichael is chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), a leading civil rights group.

Judge Rejects Sidbeck Juvenile Court Action

A motion to transfer the murder case of Robert Dean Sidbeck, 18, to juvenile court was promptly denied yesterday by Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court.

The judge then set for 1:30 p.m. Monday Sidbeck's plea to the charges that he murdered Mr. and Mrs. Everett F. Zimmerman the night of Aug. 29-30.

Public Defender Jerome Durham asked for the transfer to juvenile court, pleading Sidbeck's age, his brief Marine Corps service, and the fact he has no prior criminal record.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales opposed, declaring Sidbeck is an adult by law "and should be treated as an adult for court purposes."

Durham contended that Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of the juvenile division has held in the past that the enormity of a crime should not determine acceptance or rejection of the case by the juvenile court, but rather such factors as the suspect's prior police record and conduct, if he is past his 18th but below his 21st birthday.

Durham also asked the court to order the district attorney to provide copies of all police reports, statements of witnesses, and statements (if any) by Sidbeck. Judge Thomas also scheduled arguments on this motion for the Monday appearance.

Sidbeck, held without bail in county jail, is accused of bludgeoning the Zimmermans to death in their dairy farm home near the Marin-Sonoma line.

Bales said he will seek a grand jury indictment taking the case directly to Marin Superior Court before the scheduled plea Monday in municipal court.

Judge Drops Complaint In Child's Death

A Marin mother whose child died of injuries allegedly suffered in a beating was freed yesterday from prosecution for failure to report the crime.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court dismissed a felony complaint against Mrs. Roberta Marie Buckley, 21, which charged her with failure to inform police of the beating of her 16-month-old son, Timothy.

The charge was dropped, on recommendation of Deputy Dist. Atty. Jerry R. Herman, because Mrs. Buckley had been granted immunity in Marin Superior Court on Sept. 1 from prosecution on testimony she gave at the preliminary hearing of her common-law husband, Eugene A. Boehm. He is charged with felony child beating and murder of the infant.

Boehm and Mrs. Buckley were arrested after her child died in Marin General Hospital on Aug. 18. Boehm is scheduled for trial the week of Nov. 7.

Employment Exam

The U.S. Civil Service Commission will conduct an examination for employment in the Air Reserve technician program as logistics management officer at Hamilton Air Force and March Air Force bases. Information on the job and applications for the examination may be obtained at post offices.

Supervisors Open Program On Alcoholism

A program to help in treatment of alcoholics in Marin County was launched by the board of supervisors yesterday after a long debate on priorities.

Finally, the board came back to a list of recommendations made by a committee it had appointed to study the role of a three-man team to be hired to deal specifically with alcoholism.

STAFF HIRING

In accepting the committee's recommendations, the supervisors gave the signal for hiring of staff who will man the project to be financed under a $52,816 annual federal grant to Community Mental Health Services.

The county already has the money but it was frozen to await decisions on how the program would be worked out.

Committee members considered the first priority should be the treatment of alcoholics and the co-ordination of other agencies handling family matters. Then, if the team had time, it should establish a prepetition program and, finallly, liaison with Mendocino State Hospital.

PRIORITY LIST

Dr. Clyde G. Miller, director of Community Mental Health Services, submitted his staff's own list of priorities which, he said, defined them more clearly. But these in the end were rejected by the board in favor of the committee's list. Chairman Byron W. Leydecker said he was against a suggestion by Miller that emphasis be placed on emergency cases of alcoholism as this might exclude instances where help would be of greater benefit.

The board unanimously voted to thank the committee and ask its members to "stand by" to help through the program if necessary. Said Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen: "I don't know how Marin County could survive without these community groups to help us."

Auto Starter Gone

Cecil E. Stauts of 408 Forbes Avenue, San Rafael, told police Monday that the starter motor from his 1955 Chevrolet automobile was removed during the weekend while the car was parked at his residence.

Anti-Crime Drive Slated For Citizens

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's independent insurance agents said today they will urge the state's residents to help officers stamp out crime.

The Independent Insurance Agents Assn. will announce Oct. 25 its drive to enlist more support by citizens and community groups in the fight against crime.

The agents said they would encourage citizens to be more active in reporting crimes, helping officers on request and in promoting respect for law enforcement through education programs.

The agents will hold their 59th annual convention in Sacramento Oct. 24-25. Andrew Ekern of San Diego is chairman of the anti-crime committee. Sheriff Peter Pitchess of Los Angeles County will address the luncheon at which the plan will be announced.

Session Delayed

A meeting of the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs, scheduled for Monday night, was postponed until next Monday at 8 p.m. in the supervisors, chambers at Civic Center. County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker will be the speaker.

Health Plan To Be Aired

The proposed merger of the office of county mental health director and director of community mental health services will be discussed tomorrow from 9 to 10 a.m. on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" program.

Speakers will include Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella; Mrs. Nevada Christian, executive director of Marin Assn. of Mental Health; Dr. Joseph Gutstadt, psychiatrist and former head of the Mental Health Advisory Board, and Hadden Roth of Marin General Hospital's board of directors.

Kitty Oppenheimer, who conducts the program, will direct questions telephoned by listeners to the speakers. The program will be repeated from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Agana is the capital of Guam, an unincorporated Pacific island territory of the United States.

Supervisors Grumble Over Portable At Juvenile Hall

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Marin Probation Officer Walter H. Busher told county supervisors yesterday that they were "locked in" on a decision to buy a portable building to take care of crowding at juvenile hall.

Supervisors did not like being locked in, and they made it clear they did not like the building.

Busher offered two payment methods for the 16-unit portable building made by Modulux Inc. of Newark.

The payments, on a seven-year plan, would total $67,660 under one method, with heavy payments in the first three years. The second plan called for seven equal $10,221.12 payments for a total of $71,547.84.

"This is sort of a Mickey Mouse way of getting this done," Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss said much pain had been taken with the design of new, permanent buildings at juvenile hall. "Now we just spoil the effect of the whole thing," Gnoss said.

David Burton of Modulux showed plans of the proposed building. "It looks like public housing in Richmond," Kettenhofen said. "It's sort of like a house trailer without wheels," Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker declared.

Busher reminded the board that it had set aside $10,000 in the current budget to buy a portable building as a solution to crowding. There are an average of 60.5 at the hall where capacity is 39.

"We've lost the choice," Busher said.

Leydecker declared the temporary structure will be a "bootleg" addition to the hall.

Kettenhofen agreed, predicting that when there is money for a permanent addition, it will be needed for still greater population and the portable will remain.

Payments under the $67,660 purchase plan call for $12,455 the first three years, $6,059 for the last four years, plus another $6,059 to pay the purchase option.

Supervisors agreed this was the better plan, asked Burton to see what screening and other changes could be made to improve the looks of the building, and contiuned the matter until next Tuesday.

Needed for the first-year payment is a $2,455 transfer from reserves to be added to the budgeted $10,000.

Supervisors Peter H. Behr and Thomas T. Storer were absent yesterday and the board thus lacked the members necessary for a four-fifths vote, required for a transfer from reserves.

Restaurant Owner Defies Planners On Sign Limits

Irving (Whitey) Litchfield, owner of the Bermuda Palms motel, 737 Francisco Boulevard, told the San Rafael Planning Commission last night he is going to put up his new "Country Boy" restaurant sign without commission approval.

Litchfield's threat came after the commission reaffirmed its earlier stand that the wording on the sign be limited to "Country Boy Restaurant" in a center panel between a time and temperature panels.

Litchfield argued to have the restaurant name atop the sign and a "reader board" between the clock and thermometer.

"This sign is going up," he said. "We'll find out what the power of the planning commission is."

Acting Chairman Carl S. Brown said that when the commission originally ruled on the sign, Sept. 13, Litchfield had agreed to its conditions.

Litchfield appeared for a "clarification" last night after Acting Planner Charles J. Linthicum refused to grant a permit for the sign he has purchased.

The commission vote to uphold its earlier stand was 4-0. Commissioner Fred C. Robbins Jr. was absent. Commissioner Thomas R. O'Toole abstained and Commissioner John A. Miskimen had left.

Police Close Heiress' Case

NEWPORT R.I. (AP) — After questioning Doris Duke a second time, Police Chief Joseph A. Radice says he has closed his investigation into an auto mishap that killed Eduardo Tirella, a friend of the tobacco heiress.

"There is no cause to prefer charges against Miss Duke," Radice said yesterday, and concluded that the fatality was accidental.

Police said Tirella, 42, an interior decorator and movie set designer, was killed Friday night when a car driven by Miss Duke, 53, struck him at the entrance to her estate, Rough Point.

Youth Pleads Guilty To Joy-Riding Count

Richard Bee Deem, 18, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to two counts of joy-riding. Judge Leonard A. Thomas scheduled sentencing for Oct. 25.

San Rafael Drafts Special Zone For Courthouse Square Controls

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night authorized the drafting of a new zoning district, tentatively labeled special commercial, for the county courthouse site.

Acting City Planner Charles J. Linthicum will prepare the zoning proposal for the site, and the commission will hold a public hearing on it Nov. 8.

Linthicum said the proposed zone would be very restrictive including provisions for open space, parking, limited site coverage, and planned unit development.

If created, the new zoning district could be applied not only to the courthouse site, but to other sites in the city, Linthicum said.

He said he has prepared a rough draft of the proposed zoning, limiting uses to retail stores (except automobile supplies), offices, hotels, commercial services (except for households), personnel services, and restaurants. It also would provide for public and private parking, he said.

The proposed zoning would regulate height of buildings and lot coverage, Linthicum said.

Architect Robert W. F. Severin told commissioners "you will have a proposal from us." He said he agreed with the uses intended for the site, but the commission should keep an open mind on density requirements.

Linthicum said rezoning of the site is necessary because the county intends to sell it, and the zoning must be set "so the county can place a value on it."

After a second public hearing at which there was only one protest, the commission recommended an amendment to the zoning ordinance permitting rubbish dumps in any zoning district in the city by use permit.

Under the existing regulations, dumps are permitted only in manufacturing districts.

Bruce F. Bernhard of Alameda said the amendment was "too broad," and there would not be sufficient controls. "You are letting the door open to let people in small areas," he said.

Linthicum said permits would be revokable if conditions imposed with them were not met. He said people are dumping in East San Rafael "weekends and after hours," and some in the reservoir area without permits.

The vote to recommend the amendment was 6-0, with Chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. absent.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

1. Granted Robert Valentine a one-year permit to make precast concrete wharf components at 375 Francisco Boulevard, which are slated to be floated by barge to Angel Island for a wharf project there.

2. Granted John Triplett a operate a machine shop at 177 Paul Drive, Northgate Industrial Park.

3. Granted John Rossi a side setback variance and architectural approval for an addition to Rossi's Garage at 595 Francisco Boulevard, with one of the conditions being that the storage area be screened.

4. Granted Chrysler Corp. architectural approval of a showroom, offices and service building at 1075 Francisco Boulevard.

5. Granted Ronald Antonioli architectural approval of a warehouse-office building at 110 Paul Drive, Northgate Industrial Park, slated to be occupied by a beer and wine distributor.

6. Granted architectural approval to Ramona Stallings for alterations to Ramona's Restaurant at 1025 C Street.

7. Granted Louis Calderoni a variance for a substandard lot for addition of two units to an existing duplex at 40 Warner Court. Vote was 5-1 vote with Commissioner John A. Miskimen dissenting.

8. Granted architectural approval for an addition to Bergman Manufacturing Co. at 632 Irwin Street.

It is believed that the ancient Phoenicians were the first to introduce liquor into Ireland.

Pat Neal Plans Return To Films

LONDON (AP) — When she returned to Britain 17 months ago after suffering three near-fatal strokes, American actress Patricia Neal conceded she might never act again.

Now the 1963 Oscar winner says she hopes to resume her career shortly.

"I'm looking forward tremendously to getting back to work," she told an interviewer yesterday at her home in Great Missenden, near London.

"I have someone coming out here to see me on Friday to discuss the possibility of my playing in another movie," she said.

Miss Neal, 40, had to learn to read and write all over again and to overcome the impairment in her speech and partial paralysis caused by the strokes.

Vallejo Man Nabbed On Theft Charges

James H. Reed, 36, of Vallejo, was booked for petty theft by San Rafael police Monday after they retrieved a sink and cabinet he reportedly took from a home located on the Pimentel Ranch on Old Lucas Valley Road.

Reed was initially place under citizen's arrest by George W. Newell of 930 Calle Paseo, Novato, after he had chased Reed a short distance from the homesite.

Painters Union Hearings Set

OAKLAND (UPI) — The International Painters Union will hold hearings next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday regarding rebellious East Bay locals.

An attorney for the international union, John Dunne, withdrew requests yesterday for immediate court orders to force the locals at Oakland, Alameda and Richmond to submit to the trusteeship of the international.

Dunne claims the local unions rebelled against the international after local officers Dow Wilson and Lloyd Green were assassinated. Dunne said the rebellion took the form of the locals withholding dues.

The locals claim this is an excuse for the international to take complete control of them.

State Poll Cheers GOP; Reagan Switches Plan On Birch Remark

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A statewide poll showing Gov. Brown trailing Republican Ronald Reagan by seven percentage points today generated optimism in the GOP contender's camp and predictable unrest among Democrats.

Reagan's state campaign chairman, Philip Battaglia, said translating the bi-partisan Field Poll's findings into votes means "it's between a 600,000 and 700,000 vote lead for Reagan."

Brown, asked yesterday about the poll which showed him slipping in popularity from a month before, responded: "I don't like it. I have the toughest fight of my life on my hands."

But the man who is seeking to become California's first three-term Democratic governor predicted his race with Reagan "is going right down to the wire. It's going to be like the Harry Truman-Tom Dewey campaign in 1948." In that race for the presidency, Truman confounded the pollsters by coming from behind to defeat Republican Dewey.

Brown also noted the poll was taken from Oct. 1-6, or just after Negro rioting in San Francisco forced him to call out the National Guard. He said this may have influenced results of the sampling.

Both candidates continued strenuous Southern California campaigning today. Reagan scheduled a luncheon in San Bernardino County, a visit to a factory in Fortuna and a public rally and fund-raising speech in Riverside. Brown was to invade the Long Beach area for a reception in his honor and hand-shaking tours.

Candidates for other statewide offices also have stepped up their activities in recent days.

Democratic Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson referred to the Field Poll in a Sacramento campaign appearance when he said:

"When the polls show that a majority of Californians favor making an actor into an instant governor, you know this is not the time for uninformed voters."

Reagan, speaking at a $500-a-plate dinner, abandoned plans to warn the John Birch Society or any other group against trying to take over the Republican Party.

Instead, the GOP candidate for governor drew cheers last night by denouncing the volunteer California Democratic Council as wanting to "extend the hand of friendship to Red China."

In the prepared speech, he said: "Any group, whether it be the John Birch Society or any organization that attempts to take over the Republican Party or subvert it to its own ends should be kicked out of the party. There is no room in our party for anyone who would try to use it for the benefit of some other organization."

Reagan, however, did not include this statement when he delivered his talk.

An aide said Reagan stood by the remark but did not deliver it because "a festive occasion like this is no place to get serious." Spokesmen told newsmen Reagan had said the same thing in earlier speeches.

Before the dinner, Reagan's opponent, Democratic Gov. Brown had said the affair was promoted by right-wingers, including six members of the John Birch Society.

A total of 650 persons paid $500 a plate and heard Reagan say the Democratic party machinery had been taken over by the California Democratic Council. He denounced the CDC for its foreign policy views.

Throughout the day, Reagan replied to Brown's charges that John Birch Society members are active in his campaign.

"I don't think extremism is an issue," he told 300 people at a Santa Barbara street rally. "I don't think I support extremism."

Reagan also hit at Brown's charge that he is inexperienced.

Nowhere in the constitution, he said, "does it say you have to be a professional politician. I'm not."

Novato Votes To Permit Gas Station In Square

Novato City Council last night unanimously voted to permit a Shell Service station to operate in the Novato Square development at De Long Avenue and Highway 101.

At least two of the councilmen were reluctant to approve the station — William Jack Adams and Douglas M. Merrill. In July, they led the majority in a vote to defer action on the station 90 days for the results of a planning commission study of service stations in general.

A service station is not the best use of the property," Adams said then. Merrill agreed and said the council should decide "if it is for the over-all benefit of the community."

Last night, Adams said he regretted the planning commission report "gives us no guidelines as to where we should not have service stations."

Merrill urged a vote for the station, saying: "Under our existing ordinance, we don't have any findings which will allow us to reject this use permit. We have no basis for further delay. However, I feel this has at least raised questions about the future of the city, the appearance of the city."

In approving the station, endorsed in a letter from the chamber of commerce last night, councilmen said they want the planning commission to continue its study of service stations.

The Novato City Council also:

1. Agreed to buy 2,250 acres used for Center Road improvements and some drainage improvements from Samuel Zanco at 1711 Center Road for $3,261.
2. Set for Nov. 15 public hearing on the proposed nuisance ordinance, covering such things as blocking passage in any public place, dumping trash on public or private property, and dumping dirt in the streets.
3. Continued to Dec. 12 Robert McCreadie's request for an adjustment to allow an overhanging sign at his law office, 1127 Grant Avenue.
4. Continued indefinitely Everett Pozzi's request for rezoning of his home at Novato Boulevard and Tamalpais Avenue from single-family residential to administrative-professional.
5. Extended for another year the time for completion of improvements in unit two of Castlewood subdivision.
6. Continued for two weeks a hearing on abatement of a nuisance at Beatrice Caristi's home, 684 Hancock Street.
7. Accepted as complete the work of McGuire and Hester, Inc., on the Novato Creek-Diablo Avenue project, and improvements one and three of the Pleasant Valley subdivision.

Councilman Harley A. McAskill was absent.

Arroyo Avichi Park Federal Funds Sought

Novato City Council last night applied for $6,232.50 in federal matching funds for development of Arroyo Avichi Park and noted that one quarter of that development is being paid for by private donations.

Latest of those donations was a $1,500 check presented the council last night by Charles P. Davies, president of the Novato Civic Foundation.

Davies said the foundation was donating the money on the condition that the park be completed by next April. The foundation was incorporated last year and Davies said, "This is our first real contribution and we hope there will be many others."

Park and recreation director Edward Adams told the council construction on the project will begin next month and be completed by April 1.

Other donations for the park have been $950 from the Junior Chamber of Commerce; $500 from the Novato Garden Club, and $200 from the Novato Teen Club.

Total cost of the park will be $12,465 Adams said. City Mgr. J. Julien Baget said federal matching funds will probably not arrive until a year to 15 months from now.

Breakin Attempted

Bill Barnes, owner of Barnes and Menzio Mobil Service, 630 East Blithedale Avenue, reported Monday to Mill Valley police that someone had tried to break into his service station early yesterday. Pry marks were found on a door, police said.

Critic Blasted For His Remarks Of Capitol Mall

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Members of Sacramento's Redevelopment Agency have come to the defense of the State Capitol Mall, criticized recently by a planning expert.

The mall leading to the capitol was a "good and well planned job... And we had many people say so," Ralph L. Herod, agency executive director, said yesterday

Herod wrote Alan Temko, an architectural critic who said in a Sacramento speech last week that the mall lacked continuity.

Temko said the mall's buildings "ended at the property line" and they appeared "plunked down by some abstractionist playing checkers."

"This kind of critical comment doesn't do urban planning any good," said H. Harold Leavey, redevelopment agency member.

Novato Council Reassures Targets Of Cross Burning

The Negro family confronted with a burning cross in the front yard of their Novato home Monday night soon will receive a much kinder message, this time from the Novato City Council.

Councilmen last night were told of the cross burning by Mrs. Janice Jaber of 108 San Carlos Way, Novato.

At 9:55 p.m. Monday, someone planted a crude, four-foot cross in the front yards of the Hoza D. Wright home at 17 Raposa Vista, doused it with gasoline, and set it afire.

"This is our first cross burning in Novato and is probably an isolated incident," said Mrs. Jaber, "but I was wondering if perhaps the council should not send a letter of regret and reassurance to this family."

Mrs. Jaber, president of the women's auxiliary to the Novato Boys Club, said she does not know the Wright family, "but I think if I were them I'd be feeling a bit insecure at this time."

Councilmen thanked her for bringing the incident to their attention and Mayor J. Wayne Womack directed that a letter be sent to the Wrights "reassuring them that the City of Novato, to the best of its ability, will not tolerate this sort of thing."

"Meanwhile," said Councilman Douglas M. Merrill, "we will hope that when the culprit is found he won't turn out to be a citizen of Novato."

Oil Can Theft

Twenty cans of oil worth $20 were reported stolen yesterday to Mill Valley police from Jerry and Nick's Signal service station, 411 Miller Avenue. Owner Nicholas W. Antoni said they were taken from an outside container which had been pried open.

Leonardi Gets A. F. Contract

L. H. Leonardi Electric Construction Co. of San Rafael has been awarded a $33,975 contract to repair the street lighting system at Hamilton Air Force Base, the base procurement office announced.

The office called for bids yesterday to supply 5,000-volt, single-conductor, stranded cable and to alter the steps at Building 409 at the Mill Valley Air Force station on Mount Tamalpais.

Shirley Sought Full Screening Of 'Night Games'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Shirley Temple Black says she would not have quit the San Francisco Film Festival if its full board had seen and approved a picture she opposes.

Mrs. Black, once a child movie star, quit as a board member after approval had been given to show "Night Games," a Swedish picture which she said emphasized pornography for the sake of profit.

Approval was given by a six-member selection committee but Mrs. Black said yesterday a festival rule book specifies the full committee is the final judge. It also declares the pictures shall be shown to the entire board, she added.

David Sacks, television executive who is festival chairman, backed the system of having a six-member selection committee.

"Our rules should have been amended," he said.

Council Approves Loan Negotiation

San Anselmo City Council last night authorized city negotiations with the Bank of America for a $60,000 loan to buy land for a parking lot at Pine Street and San Anselmo Avenue.

The council also authorized a call for bids on development of the parking lot, estimated to cost $12,405, with downtown property owners to pay the entire cost of development. City Mgr. Douglass J. Flautt said $8,550 has been donated so far.

Flautt had the land appraised since the Sept. 22 council meeting and told the council last night that it was appraised at $59,600. The city is buying the land from Ottiwell W. Jones Jr., Charles B. Jones and Emily Merriman.

Councilman Robert A. Scott alone voted against the purchase, calling it "impulse spending." He said the city could use that $60,000 to get $180,000 in matching federal funds.

The council also gave Norman Gilroy 30 days to repair or demolish his house at 21 Loma Robles Drive on Red Hill and Harry Cordone 30 days to demolish his building at 721 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Neither Cordone nor Gilroy attended the meeting. The council complained of the Gilroy building being open to children, with all windows broken out and doors open.

"That building is an absolute disgrace to the city," councilman Duane C. Ragan said. "It's beyond rehabilitation."

The council opened six bids on improvement of parking lot A, and awarded a contract to low bidder W. K. McClellan Co. of San Rafael, for $14,153.21. High bidder was Maggiora and Ghilotti of Corte Madera, at $16,915.60. The project was estimated at $14,000.

Actual cost to the city will be $9,153.21, as part of the work will be paid for by an adjacent businessman and part by Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

1. Approved a call for bids on Weed Abatement, estimated at $1,000.
2. Approved joint City-Marin Municipal Water District project to replace a two-inch water main on Woodland Avenue with an eight-inch main and to add three fire hydrants at cost to city of $6,155.
3. Approved city participation in a county-cities project to make zoning ordinances uniform in wording and format, though not necessarily in requirements.
4. Approved amendment of the zoning ordinance to require use permits for self-service, entertainment, outdoor and drive-in businesses.
5. Approved the police department's request for a Stop sign on Foss Avenue at Sunnyside Avenue.
6. Called for examinations to hire a street sweeper.
7. Appointed Joseph Gue of Alder Avenue to the planning commission.
8. Established traffic and street study committee and appointed Donald A. Duerr, William R. Davis, Peter Toal, Donald L. Mincey, Everett Farey, Martin Smolak, Don Mansell, Daniel H. Goltz and Dr. George Bond to the committee.
9. Refused Pandora Restaurant's request for a street light at Spaulding Avenue.

Judge To Study Sheppard Plea

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—After an 11-minute hearing, Judge Francis J. Talty said today he would rule at 11 a.m. Friday on a defense motion to move Samuel H. Sheppard's murder retrial out of Cleveland.

During the brief hearing which started late, F. Lee Bailey of Boston, Sheppard's chief counsel, introduced for evidence five scrapbooks of newspaper clippings and four issues of the Cleveland Press.

The scrapbooks covered the period from July 1954, when Sheppard's first wife, Marilyn, was killed, through December, when the former osteopath was convicted by a jury of second-degree murder.

Sounds Of 'Bongo' Due To Be Muffled

By CAROL MARSH

The San Anselmo City Council last night took a good humored approach to solving a neighborhood conflict about the sound of a two-piece band at McArthur's Bar, 213 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The council received a petition with 10 signatures complaining of "loud and objectionable 'bongo' music" coming from the bar from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays. All of the signers live on Lincoln Avenue.

"It's impossible to sleep," complained L M. Hobbs of 32 Lincoln Avenue.

"The constant beat of bongo drums is so loud I though it was the kids next door," another signer, H. L. Reilly of 39 Lincoln Avenue, told the council.

"There are no bongo drums in the place," bar owner Donald McArthur declared. He said the music came from an organ and a set of non-bongo drums, and that he "will be glad to do anything I can to alleviate the noise."

"I live right across the street," Mrs. Ellen Egan told the council, "and the echo through my house wakes me up I called the police and they told me to get ear plugs. I did and I can still hear the echo."

"Echo?" Mayor John M. Reichmuth asked.

"Reverberation," Councilman Duane C. Ragan clarified, adding: "These people have a right to their sleep, and this man has a right to conduct his business. It will take the wisdom of Solomon to solve this problem."

"Who's going to cut the baby in half?" Reichmuth quipped.

"I live half a block away and I can hear it," Councilman Arthur W. Smith commented.

Councilman Ragan read from the municipal code that any sound between 9 p.m. and 8 a.m. which disturbs the peace, comfort or health of anyone is illegal, and the person who maintains such a noise is guilty of a misdemeanor.

City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt said, however, the bar is in a commercial area, and music is part of the business.

The council voted to ask McArthur to consult an accoustical engineer and to do something to cut down on the noise. McArthur asid he would call the engineer today.

Inverness PUD Against Union

Directors of the Inverness Public Utility District last night opposed formation of a county-vide fire protection district which would absorb fire-fighting equipment purchased by Inverness.

Mrs. Richard M. Cantwell, secretary, said no formal action was taken, but that in general discussion the directors disapproved.

Mrs. Cantwell said, "We've invested over $40,000 in the past 10 or 15 years and have the only structural equipment in West Marin. We don't like the idea of the county taking it over."

Mill Valley Art Board Elects, Asks Expansion

Donald Dudley was elected chairman Monday of the Mill Valley Art Board. Mrs. Mathew P. Dillingham was elected secretary.

The board was created in May by Mayor Albert E. White "to promote and encourage art."

The board agreed that its functions should include theater, dance and music, and asked Mayor White to appoint two additional persons to the board to represent these fields.

The board will meet Oct. 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the gallery of the new library to consider improvements in the site of the 1968 fall art festival.

Fourth Victim For Ohio Strangler?

It was the fourth time in less than a year that women, all in their 50s, have been attacked and strangled here.

The latest victim was Alice Hochhausler, mother of nine children ranging in age from 9 to 24.

Police said she apparently had been attacked last night when she returned home after driving a daughter to the daughter's home.

The body was found this morning.

Police said it appeared she was attacked about 50 feet from the garage at her own home because a shoe, car keys and her false teeth were found there.

Her clothing was in disarray but there was no immediate word whether she had been raped.

Police have said the previous strangulations of Emogene Harrington, 56, last Dec. 2; of Lois Dant, 58, last April 4; and of Jeanette M. Messer, 56, last June 10, all followed a similar pattern.

Mrs. Harrington, wife of a University of Cincinnati space scientist, and Mrs. Dant were attacked and killed in their homes. Mrs. Messer was killed as she walked in a park in the same general area as the Hochhausler home.

Also unsolved is the slaying of a 31-year-old secretary last Aug. 14 after she apparently got into a stolen taxicab and the driver attempted to rob and attack her.

Held For Military

Robert Marage, a sailor stationed at San Diego, was held in Marin County Jail today for military authorities on a charge of desertion.

Jury Convicts On Murder Plan

PANAMA (AP) — A seven-man jury convicted politician Alfredo Jimenez last night of attempted murder in the shooting 28 months ago of Dr. Robert Arias, husband of British ballerina Dame Margot Fonteyn.

Jimenez denied the shooting but jumped $5,000 bail months ago when the charge was changed from assault with a deadly weapon. He was tried in absentia.

The jury deliberated 80 minutes after a nine-day trial. The sentence will be fixed later.

Arias, former ambassador to Britain and a member of one of Panama's leading political families, was shot in June 1964 while his automobile was stopped at a red light in a suburb of Panama City.

Cal Editor Blasts Aide's 'Good, Clean Kids' Remark

BERKELEY (UPI) — The University of California's student newspaper took Thomas C. Sorensen, newly appointed vice president for university relations to task, in an editorial yesterday.

Sorensen said last week that most of the students at the university are "good kids, clean kids, law-abiding kids, studious kids—your kids." He added, "a great many of the creeps around campus are not students at all."

The Daily California replied: "Once again, a university administrator has used the 'but most of the students are good kids' line in an effort to placate the public whence all money flows.

"What Sorensen has failed to realize, is that the ferment and turmoil has become a major part of life at this campus and are not merely functions of a small group of activists."

The editorial, entitled "Stop Apologizing!" insisted that "a great university must tolerate and even encourage all kinds of eccentricity . . ." or give up its claim as a center of higher education.

Cash Plea Readied

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Prime Minister Abdul Rahman said today he will ask President Johnson to aid Indonesia when Johnson visits Malaysia Oct. 30-31.

Senate Approves Public Works Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate passage today completed congressional action on a compromise $4.1 billion public works appropriation bill. The House passed it yesterday.

The measure carries funds for Army Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau to plan and build water projects throughout the country. Also included is $2.2 billion for the Atomic Energy Commission's operations in the fiscal year that started last July 1.

KLAN'S BOOTH AT FAIR

The 99th annual North Carolina State Fair at Raleigh has something new a Ku Klux Klan booth on the midway. # Beatnik Can Have Ulcer Woes, Too

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—You don't have to be a high-powered executive to develop a stress ulcer—"the beatnik is stressed over how long his hair is," panelists at the clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons agreed today.

Stress ulcer is a "wastebasket" term involving ulcers of both the stomach and duodenum, the section of small intestine leading from the stomach.

said Dr. Karl E. Karlson of the State University of New York Down State Medical Center in Brooklyn.

Stress ulcers develop as a complication of injury or illness. They may crop up after a major operation—or when the beatnik worries about the length of his curls.

Stress ulcers as complications of illness, injury or surgery are difficult to manage since the patient is already sick, Karlson said. Like peptic ulcers, they call for control of bleeding and acidity. Cutting out the diseased section is often the treatment of choice, the surgeon said. Massive bleeding is the traumatic ulcer's most common manisfestation and must be quickly controlled to save the patient.

The ulcers occur at any age as a complication of many diseases and after almost any sort of operation, Dr. Karlson added.

Dr. Lloyd M. Nyhus of the University of Washington medical school, Seattle, offered cheering statistics on another kind of ulcer, the one that comes back after an ulcer operation.

They don't come back much any more, he said—a recurrency rate after surgery of no more than .5 to 1 per cent at the highest in 1966.

That return rate ran as high as 80 per cent before World War II, Dr. Nyhus said.

He credited basic research work in the laboratory, especially experimental work on dogs, for developing today's successful treatments. "We've hit the problem hard and got some results," Dr. Nyhus said.

New Design Review Plan Introduced

Tiburon's much-discussed board of design review ordinance was introduced in revised form at Monday night's city council meeting.

It now provides for direct appeal by property owners, for referral on appeal from the council to the planning commission and that approval of private master plans must be by three votes.

Ex-councilman Anne L. Ellinwood presented a letter from herself and Rampton W. Harvey, chairman of the Tiburon Peninsual Advisory Council, saying they still object to planning matters being delegated to a board instead of the entire planning commission. However, the ordinance passed its first reading successfully.

An appeal was heard against a denial by the new design review board of an application by Lawrence C. Olin for two offsite signs for Reedlands Woods development. The council voted to uphold the board's denial.

Chicago Gang Bullets Hurt Officer, Boy

CHICAGO (AP) — A sniper's bullet grazed a policeman's head and a 15-year-old boy was shot in the stomach yesterday night in what police called another flareup of gang warfare.

Police moved in force to bar any spread of the violence that began when roving street gangs threw bricks at police cars in an all-Negro South Side neighborhood just south of the University of Chicago.

More than 60 youths, many known to police as gang members, were arrested in a series of incidents punctuated by gunfire. Police said they seized three fire bombs from one of the youths.

Policeman Edward Carmody, 38, who is white, said the side of his head was grazed by a bullet which shattered the rear window of his squad car. He and his partner were rushing to the aid of other policemen who had said they were under fire or being hit by bricks and bottles.

Carmody received first aid at Billings Hospital and was released.

Minutes later police found Walter Stewart, a Negro high school student, sprawled on a sidewalk. He had been shot in the stomach. Stewart was hospitalized in fair condition.

Western Pacific Asks To Discontinue Zephyr

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Despite a brisk summer passenger trade, the California Zephyr loses money and should be discontinued, the Western Pacific Railroad's president declared yesterday.

Myron M. Christy, the WP president, said his road loses upwards of $816,000 annually operating the streamliner between Salt Lake City and the San Francisco Bay Area.

He told an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing that the road's advertising budget decreased from $248,000 in 1949 to $29,000 in 1965 because the WP's last passenger train was so well known.

The 1949 outlay, he said, was needed to gain public acceptance for the new train. But now it is so well known that is not advertised heavily, he added.

Traffic drops off during the winter, the WP contends, and revenues suffer because the train carries few local passengers, no mail and little express. It is operated between Chicago and Denver by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad and between Denver and Salt Lake City by the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad. Neither of those roads wants to discontinue the train.

Vincent B. McKenzie, California Public Utilities Commission attorney who questioned Christy, told the hearing "there is a great deal of public convenience and necessity" involved in continuing the train.

Christy said part of the reason for pressing now for discontinuance is to avoid major equipment expenses. As the cars age it becomes more expensive to maintain them, he said.

WP maintains that passenger losses hamper the expansion of freight operations. The road is bringing in witnesses from industry to back that view.

Hearings continue here through tomorrow and then will be held Oct. 17 in Sacramento, Oct. 19 in Oroville, Oct. 20 at Winnemucca, Nev., and Oct. 21 at Salt Lake City.

Annexation Meeting

Incorporation and annexation plans for the Strawberry area, now under review by the local Agency Formation Commission, will be discussed when the Bay View Heights Assn. meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Room 2 of Strawberry School.

Judge Opens Up Lawsuit Chances In Air Disaster

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Federal Judge William E. Beeks ruled Monday that Flying Tiger Line is responsible for damages which could total millions of dollars in connection with the loss of an airliner four years ago.

The plane disappeared between Guam and the Philippines on March 16, 1962. It carried 107 persons, including 93 soldiers bound for Viet Nam.

A Los Angeles district court held earlier that Flying Tiger was liable for damages only up to $8,300 per person under the Warsaw Convention, but Judge Beeks, of Seattle, ruled that the international agreement did not apply to the flight.

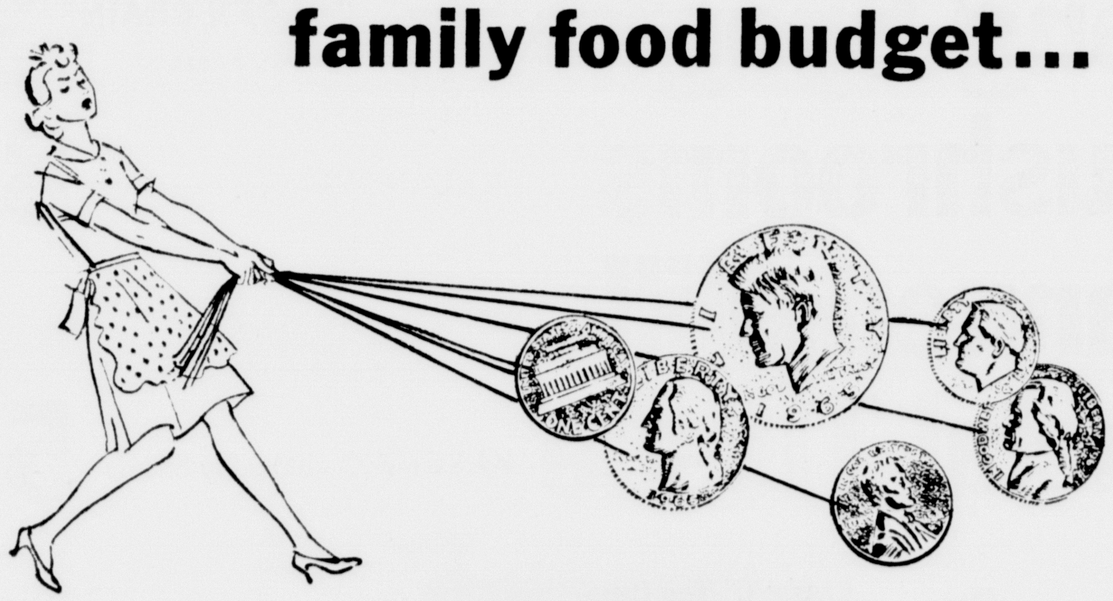

The airline was flying personnel to Viet Nam under Defense Department contract.

SAUERBRATEN MEAT Balls will not only offer hearty and palate-pleasing fare for your family, but they are especially designed to be easy on your food budget. They're bound to be a family favorite.

Sauerbraten Meat Ball Sauce Has Lemon Juice And Raisins

Because of rising food prices, many a homemaker is now closely figuring the costs of feeding her family. A few cents saved here and there with wise shopping and planning can quickly add up to a savings of many dollars.

WHEN PLANNING main dishes, which can take a big chunk from your food budget, you would do well to take a tip from the thrifty Germans. They are known for hearty fare that can be prepared on a shoestring.

One idea that is not only economical, but particularly tantalizing for any appetite, is Sauerbraten Meat Balls. It's a ground beef combination which includes a tangy sauce just like that of the famous German Sauerbraten.

THE SAUCE is flavored with bouillon, gingersnap crumbs, raisins, brown sugar and lemon juice to add the tangy taste. The recipe calls for bottled lemon juice, an especially convenient way to make use of this fruit.

SAUERBRATEN MEAT BALLS

1 pound ground beef
¾ cup soft bread crumbs
¼ cup finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons bottled lemon juice
2 tablespoons water
½ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
2¼ cups water
3 beef bouillon cubes
½ cup brown sugar
¼ cup dark seedless raisins
¼ cup bottled lemon juice
¾ cup gingersnap crumbs
1 package (8 ounces) noodles
1 teaspoon poppy seeds

Combine meat, bread crumbs, onion, 2 tablespoons bottled lemon juice, 2 tablespoons water, salt and pepper. Shape into 1-inch balls. Brown meat balls in small amount of hot fat. Remove meat balls; add 2¼ cups water to drippings and bring to a boil; stir in bouillon cubes, sugar, raisins, ¼ cup bottled lemon juice and gingersnap crumbs. Add meat balls; cook uncovered over low heat 10 minutes. Turn meat balls, spooning sauce over; cook 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cook noodles according to package directions. Drain and top noodles with poppy seeds. Serve meat balls and sauce over noodles. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Nectarine Beef Cups Offer Novelty, Eye Appeal Aplenty

If you'd like to surprise your family with something novel and delicious for dinner without spending too much time in the kitchen, here's your answer. "Nectarine Beef Cups" are an easy-to-fix dish that offers novelty and eye appeal aplenty along with good eating. Clue the family as to what's to come by making a simple arrangement of beautiful nectarines and a few green leaves in the center of the table.

NECTARINE BEEF CUPS

1 or 2 fresh nectarines
1 lb. ground beef
¾ cup chopped onion
½ cup fine soft bread crumbs
¼ cup catsup
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Butter or margarine
2 thin slices (4 inches square) process American cheese

Cut slices from nectarines; cut each slice into 3 or 4 pieces. Combine beef, onion, crumbs, catsup, salt and pepper; form into 4 balls and place in shallow pan. Press a large hollow in the center of each ball, forming a cup. Spoon nectarines into cups; dot generously with butter. Bake at 375 degrees 25 minutes or until cooked as desired. Cut each cheese slice into 4 strips. Crisscross 2 strips on each meat cup and return to oven 5 minutes until cheese melts.

Salmon, Diced Cucumber Combine In A Crisp Salad

"Cool as a . . ." Yes, that's where this main dish salad got its name, "Summer Breeze Salmon Salad." It's a cool-looking, cool-tasting gelatin mold resting on a raft of crisp western iceberg lettuce. Shreds of lettuce are in the gelatin, too, along with chunks of salmon and diced cucumber. Pickling spice, Worcestershire and vinegar give lively flavor to the gelatin.

When you unmold this "whole meal" salad, make it just that by giving it a colorful, edible garnish of halves of hard-cooked eggs sprinkled with seasoned pepper, salted tomato wedges and perhaps some marinated cooked carrots. Serve with hot, crusty French rolls and soft sweet butter.

SALMON SALAD

1 head western iceberg lettuce
Water
1 teaspoon pickling spice
1 bay leaf
1 cup sliced onion
2 envelopes plain gelatin
2 teaspoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
⅓ cup vinegar
½ teaspoon Worcestershire
1 can (1 lb.) salmon, drained
1 cup diced cucumber

Core, rinse and drain lettuce; chill in plastic bag or saran. Combine 2 cups water, pickling spice, bay leaf and onion in saucepan; bring to boil and cook, uncovered, 20 minutes. Strain; add water to liquid to return to 2 cups total. Soften gelatin in 1 cup cold water, add to seasoned liquid; heat, stirring, until dissolved. Stir in sugar, salt, vinegar and Worcestershire. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Meanwhile, cut lettuce crosswise to get 1 slice about 1-inch thick; place "raft" in bottom of flat-bottomed 6-cup mold (or saucepan). Cut remaining lettuce into bite-sized chunks to yield 2½ cups. Remove bones and skin from salmon if you wish; break fish into chunks. Fold lettuce, salmon chunks and cucumber into gelatin mixture; turn into mold over raft. Chill until firm. Unmold; garnish with watercress, sliced tomato, hard-cooked eggs or similar food, as you wish.

Makes 5 or 6 servings.

Gingercream Peaches Are Rich But Light

A light but rich dessert that is so refreshing.

Ovenfried Chicken with Biscuit
Curried Rice Frozen Asparagus
Ginger Cream with Peaches

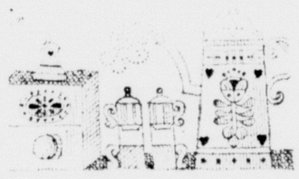

¼ cup cold water
1½ teaspoons unflavored gelatin
1 cup milk, heated
3 tablespoons finely chopped syrup-preserved ginger
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 package (10 ounces) frozen peaches

Sprinkle gelatin over cold water and allow to stand about 5 minutes to soften. Add the very hot milk; stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chill until partly set, stirring a few times. Fold in the ginger and whipped cream. Turn into 6 dessert dishes; chill until set. Top with defrosted peaches. Makes 6 servings.

Nutty Vegetables

Shoppers are familiar with the hundreds of ways that vegetables can be prepared for snacking and dining, but for an added treat why not combine your favorite vegetables with another favorite—peanut butter? The nutty flavor of peanut butter combines with so many other foods with such versatility that it easily lends itself to creative cookery. Try combining ⅓ cup peanut butter with ⅔ cup french dressing, mayonnaise, or other salad dressing. Serve with fruit or vegetable salads.

Pineapple Puts On Continental Airs

Golden pineapple makes a smashing "spiedini," Italy's answer to the sandwich. The bread is crusty French rolls, split in two places to hold canned pineapple slices and chunks of Mozzarella cheese wrapped in salami. It's a good idea to skewer the works together before dipping in an egg 'n' milk batter. A sprinkle of Parmesan cheese and the spiedinis are ready for a quick bake in the oven. Quite a nice departure from the usual sandwich for lunch or evening snack.

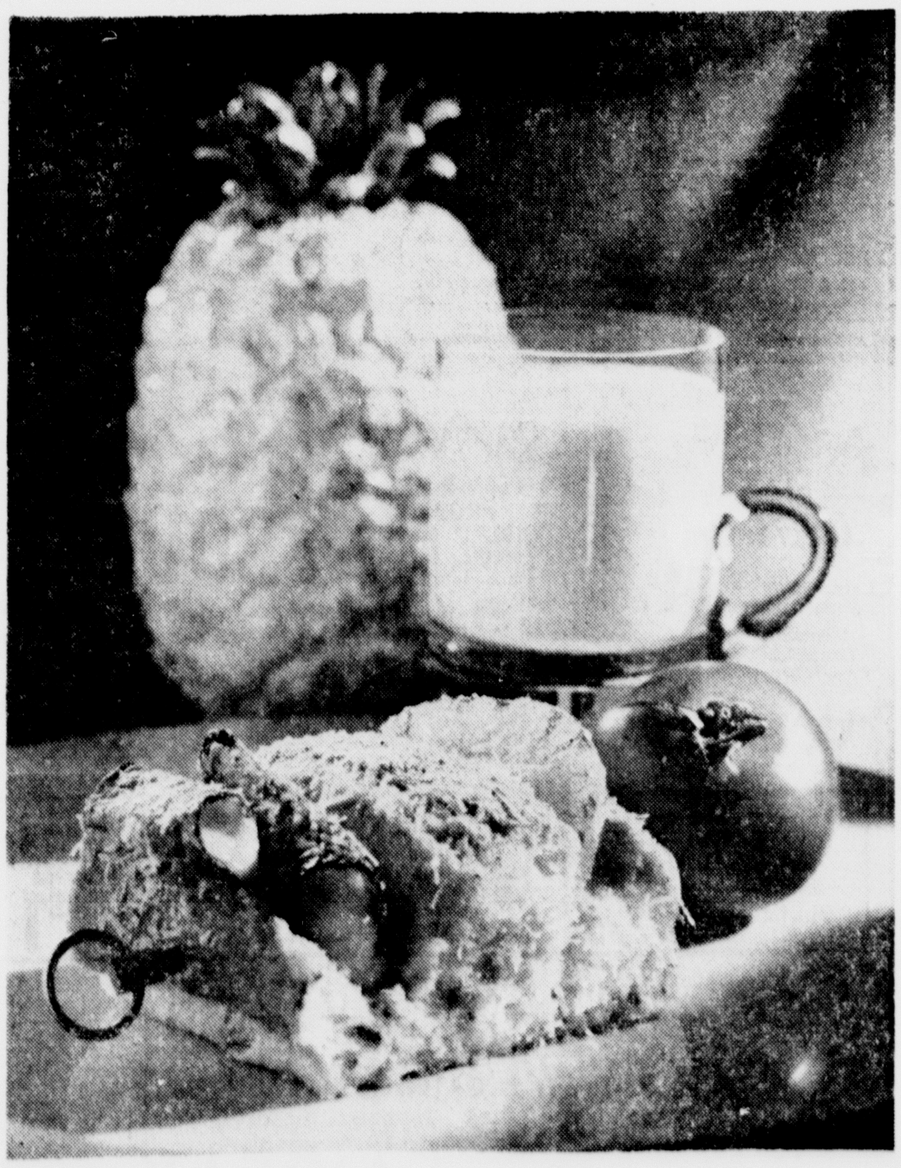

And while versatile canned pineapple might go out of the country, it never goes out of season. Its refreshing flavor can be found in salads, sauces, entrees and desserts anywhere, any time. This hospitable fruit is a worldly classic.

PINEAPPLE SPIEDINI

4 French rolls*
⅓ cup butter
¼ teaspoon mixed Italian herbs
Dash garlic powder
¼ pound Mozzarella cheese
8 slices salami
1 (8½-ounce) can pineapple slices
1 egg
⅓ cup milk
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Cut each roll part way through in two places from top to bottom, leaving bottom crust intact. Spread butter blended with herbs and garlic powder over cut surfaces of rolls. Cut Mozzarella cheese into 8 chunks; fold each in slice of salami. Place two of these in 1 slit of each roll. Place drained pineapple slice in each of the remaining slits in rolls. Thrust skewer through roll to hold salami and pineapple in place. Dip rolls in egg beaten with milk, turning to moisten all surfaces. Place on buttered baking sheet. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 15 minutes, until browned. Makes 4 sandwiches.

New Probe Into Sudden Infant Deaths

By GAYLORD SHAW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors are launching an intensive new probe of the mysterious, nameless disease that kills thousands of apparently healthy babies each year.

The year-long project by a six-physician research team here is aimed at what is known as the "sudden infant death syndrome."

The condition has no medical name, but the Public Health Service rates it as one of the top killers of infants with between 10,000 and 20,000 victims annually in the United States and thousands more in other countries.

Dr. James R. Patrick, 35, chief pathologist at the District of Columbia Children's Hospital, heads the research team. He said he believes a combination of factors may make certain infants more susceptible than others to the disease.

Patrick's team will be looking, among other things, for any special viruses or combination of viruses that might prove fatal to infants.

Patrick said his team will start actual research work when special equipment arrives in a few weeks. The project is being conducted under a $165,300 contract with the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development, part of the National Institutes of Health.

The NIH said previous research, some of which it sponsored, has failed to turn up a definite cause of the sudden infant deaths.

But these facts are known about the condition:

It is most prevalent in infants between 2 and 4 months of age, but may strike at any time from birth until 2 years.

It does not appear to be hereditary, seldom occurring in the same family twice.

Most victims have little or no history of previous serious illness.

ONLY THE BANGS SHOW

Hat designer Emme uses calfskin, stencilled in black and white squares, for a big beret, coupled with a blouse repeating the checkered theme. The millinery industry talks of the covered-up look for the chilly months ahead and, in most instances, if hair shows at all, it's in the form of wispy bangs.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Snoop And Snicker Set Doesn't Know Wife Is Above Reproach

DEAR HELEN:

My wife and I had a friendly argument and we'd like your opinion.

She contends there is nothing wrong in inviting an out-of-town (400 miles) male friend to spend several nights at the family residence when her husband is absent. In this case the husband is home about every other weekend.

I say it is not proper and could lead to gossip and a damaged reputation plus eventual marital trouble. She says the two children—teen-agers — at home make it above board. And you?—L.G.

DEAR L:

Your wife may know she's above approach, but the snoop and snicker set doesn't; and raised eyebrows can make even the most trusting husband wonder if he should be.

Moreover, when a husband says, "It isn't proper," a good little wife says, "Yes, chief." Especially as concerns another man.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I read the letter from "Free in Utopia" and I couldn't agree with her more, on the subject of living with the person you love regardless of a wedding ceremony.

The point about maturity and outlook is the main thing. You have to be sure it is right for you—the best solution. My boyfriend and I are still in college. We started later than most and it will be four years before we can consider marriage. We both know that sex is only a part of love, but we feel it is an expression of love to be shared. Our mental attitude is healthy and untroubled by conscience.

This is one individual's opinion and I know you and others do not agree with me. But it is a decision adult persons must make for themselves and I don't think society should do it for us. —INDIVIDUAL THINKERS.

DEAR THINKER:

When I hear arguments like yours I'm reminded of the boy who shortcuts through a flower garden saying, "I'm careful, see? I don't hurt anything." But if everyone followed his lead, soon there'd be nothing left but dirt.

What would happen to marriage and the family if everyone decided to trample down society's rules? Let's hope you "Free in Utopians" don't start a stampede you'll bitterly regret someday.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Thank you for disagreeing "Free in Utopia." If adults are going to take the attitude that sex before marriage is wrong for teens but right for adults, where is it going to lead? God made rules for our own good, not just to make it harder on us. He knew that no rules at all would make a mess of the world. An unprincipled, undisciplined nation won't last.—D. H.

DEAR HELEN:

Some months ago my husband and I met two charming women at a guest ranch. We all felt as if we'd known each other for years and decided to get together inasmuch as we lived in neighboring towns.

I have since found that they are from a prominent family and very wealthy. We feel we cannot keep up with them socially. We have a nice home, and are comfortably situated, but our social positions are not compatible.

Recently one of the women sent me a note on her brother's business stationery. I feel she did this to let me know who she was, so that we won't get "pushy," though it seemed very friendly.

I didn't answer the note, as this friendship just cannot be, as far as money goes. Did I interpret her letter right? — MRS. W.J.A.

DEAR MRS. A:

No! I think your "reverse snobbishness' may have lost you a fine friendship. Prominent people are often not nearly as aware of their position as you are. They prefer to choose friends for themselves, not their money, but sometimes their "apartness" keeps them a little lonely. Your kind of social consciousness shuts them off from contacts they'd really enjoy.—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

NEW YORK (AP) — A former Hungarian freedom fighter has returned to his Somerset, N.J., home after six months imprisonment in Hungary which he says grew out of his arrest on a traffic violation.

"Oh, am I glad to be home. I thought I'd never get out," said Ernest Nemeth, 34, as he arrived in New York by plane last night from Austria.

Nemeth, a cabinet maker who came to the United States in 1956 with his wife Rose, said he was visiting relatives when Hungarian police arrested him for driving at night with his high beams turned on.

When he protested after paying a $25 fine, he was charged with incitng riot and sentenced to nine months in jail. An appeal reduced his term by three months.

We Try To Reflect All Shades Of Opinion

National Newspaper Week (Oct. 9-15), once again reminds us of the responsibility the newspaper has toward its reading public.

Development of other mass communication media such as television and radio has not detracted from the role of newspapers. On the contrary, the role of the daily press has increased. The public depends on the printed columns for news, pro and con arguments on national and local issues, and even to keep informed of coming programs on radio, television and movies. The newspaper serves as a calendar and a reminder of coming events and other sources of information.

When a radio listener or television viewer gets flashes of information, he turns to the newspaper for follow-up comments and background material. The printed word, which is permanent and can be referred to at the reader's leisure and at a time of his own choosing, still remains the main source of public information.

We, in the newspaper field, recognize that responsibility and renew our efforts to bring to our readers an accurate reflection of current events, as objectively as possible.

In addition to the objective reporting on the news pages, we present an editorial page to express our own opinions and to attempt to influence public opinion.

And in the interests of fair play, we give space to various columnists, both local and national, so that the reader will get all shades of opinions reflecting different and sometimes conflicting points of view.

The individual reader himself has a chance to air his views or grievances through the What-Our-Readers-Say column.

We believe that a well-informed public, exposed to the facts and to a variety of philosophies, usually arrives at decisions that are in the best interest of the community and the nation. It is only when facts are hushed or distorted and only one side of an issue is presented we can go astray. We shall continue to present all sides.

Miles H. Wolff, while he was president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, gave this explanation of the role of the press:

"A newspaper, through the news pages as well as the editorial page, can act as the conscience of the community when evil forces threaten. The news pages can call attention to the danger; the editorial page can suggest action that should be taken. This is most important, because there always are those who would take advantage of situations for their own profit. The newspaper must be on guard and be bold in its comment and its criticism . . .

"Taking a broad viewpoint, newspaper editorial pages that are alert, that do their job as it should be done, can keep their city or town from becoming self-centered, self-righteous, and self-satisfied."

We believe that an informed public, dedicated public servants, and a free press can serve as "partners in freedom," working toward the ideal—a society free of want, fear and violence.

True, we often fall far short of those goals. On the occasion of National Newspaper Week, we again dedicate ourselves to working toward those ideals.

We count on the public to help us in the battle—by supporting us in our advances and criticizing when we stumble or fail.

We will continue to toss out our own opinions and those of others, confident that the receiving public is capable of sifting those opinions and arriving at just decisions.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Tom Storer Replies To Phil Drath Letter

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Let it be known that I have no quarrel with Phil Drath. Phil is a man with strong convictions who believes in acting upon those convictions. Along with many other people, I admire his efforts in behalf of the brotherhood of man (helping to rebuild 30 churches in Mississippi which were burned to the ground last year). I respect his Quaker beliefs in non-violence and I believe with him that our goal is, in his own words, to ". . . bring into being a world in which we treat each other as brothers recognizing the needs of those near us as well as far away, a world in which poverty, hunger, disease and war do not exist and in which people live together in peace and harmony."

I was at the Korean Front for six months and when I returned from that "conflict," I made it my conviction to work for a world in which we treat each other as brothers, a world in which poverty, disease, hunger and war do not exist. I, too, am dedicating my life to these goals in the way in which I best see fit.

Phil Drath, running as a Democratic candidate on the single platform of peace in Vietnam, did not win the Primary. Had he won, I would have endorsed his candidacy. I have no quarrel with Phil Drath.

Concerning the Write-in campaign, Phil himself says that he has no part in it. The two reasons he gave for this were that as long as I continued to oppose the war, he could not conduct a write-in, and also, a write-in did not seem to him to be a very good way of demonstrating opposition to the war. Phil then said that he later thought the write-in campaign, although he still would have no part in it, had accomplished a great deal by bringing about the debate between myself and Bob Scheer of Berkeley, a "peace candidate" who also ran in the Democratic primary, who also lost, and who is now spearheading a group called the New Politics.

In Marin County, the leaders in the write-in campaign and the New Politics group are one and the same.

Bob Scheer, in the course of our debate at the Civic Center two weeks ago, said that he used to be a loyal Democrat and pointed out with some pride that he had once spoken to 40,000 people in Madison Square Garden at a rally for Adlai Stevenson. But he said that "they" had shoved a speech under his nose, he couldn't really speak in his own words at all, and that he felt like a puppet. Resentful at being used, his young ideals tarnished, he has decided to wage war against the "system," as he calls it. The greater portion of that debate at the Civic Center was not about the write-in for Phil, but about a write-in against Governor Brown, or a boycott of casting a vote for Governor at all. Scheer insisted that the New Politics must gain political power and if it is necessary to destroy the Democratic party in order to obtain it, then that is what must be done.

Bob Scheer is a bright young man but there is an immaturity in his attitudes and a touch of fanaticism in his methods. He ran as a Democratic "Peace Candidate" for Congress against Jeffrey Cohelan of Berkeley at the same time Phil ran against me. Scheer told the audience that $78,000 had been donated to his campaign. And yet he lost. That fantastic financial sum, however, is enough to make anyone heady.

When Phil Drath ran against me in June, he spent over $30,000. My expenses ran to $7,000. And yet, I won. What this points out to me is that there are many, many people who are angered, frustrated and heart-broken about this war in Vietnam. They wanted to show in any way they could (money being the best, probably,) that they wanted to protest further continuance of the war. And many of these were people who had never heard of the New Politics, or if they did, had no desire to get involved with that group.

I would like to finish with the New Politics by saying this: They held their first state-wide conference in Los Angeles last week, with about 2,000 delegates in attendance. They voted to boycott voting for Governor Brown and to support the policies of their conference. And the policies of their conference are to campaign and demonstrate against the war in Vietnam, against the draft, against the proposed investigation of the University of California, and against allocation of anti-poverty funds by "politicians."

They have made resolutions supporting "the idea of black power", the admission of Red China to the U.N., more anti-war demonstrations and allied civil disobedience, repeal of California's anti-riot laws, and the creation of civilian police review boards.

That is just to set the record straight in case anyone wonders what the New Politics is all about. In Marin County, it is understandable that the leaders of the write-in campaign and the New Politics are the same people.

However, I feel it should be pointed out that a write-in vote for Phil Drath next month will not get Phil Drath elected to Congress, nor will it be a vote for peace. The practical result such a write-in will have will be to aide the incumbent—in short, it will help to return to Congress someone who refuses to take a stand on the Vietnam war. If a person still feels it a necessity to cast a write-in vote, why not write-in the word "peace" or "love" or "negotiate" or "withdraw"? It will all have the same effect as writing-in Phil Drath—it will just help the incumbent, a man who has voted against funds for the disarmament agency.

As for my own attitude toward the war in Vietnam, probably because it is so strongly against the Administration's policies, I have not received any financial support whatsoever from "them," "the establishment," the National Democratic Party. However, win or lose I feel that I must speak out as I believe about this war. I spoke out on Vietnam to the students at College of Marin on Wednesday, and at Sonoma State College on Friday. Previous to that, to the student body of Humboldt State, and most of these audiences in particular, are not eligible voters. But these are the young people who are, many of them, facing the draft, who want to know how we can achieve a peace in Vietnam, and who want to know how it can be done in a practical and possible way as soon as possible. I recently talked about Vietnam to the Real Estate Board of Sonoma County. I have given speech after speech up and down this District, emphasizing my stand against the war in Vietnam and my proposals for achieving an honorable and possible peace.

And as a last thought, let me say this: Your voice in the policies of this government is through your vote. Don't use your right to vote merely as a protest — there are other ways to protest. The right to vote is the most precious right you have as an American. Don't throw your vote away. Put it where it will count.

Nation Is Watching Arkansas; Key To Many Major Problems

LITTLE ROCK — When you read the election returns Nov. 8, there are special reasons to pay attention to what happened in Arkansas.

Here is a clear test of voter opinion on some of the sharpest controversies now uppermost in the county and in Congress—race relations and rioting, President Johnson's leadership and the Great Society, and whether or not two-party government is to go forward in the South.

These issues are naked and visible. Nothing is blurred.

They are all wrapped up in one single, improbable, fascinating contest to decide who and what will succeed the six-term Orval Faubus as governor.

Rarely do voters have the opportunity to render a clear-cut verdict on matters agitating so deeply at the same time.

The contrasting personalities and talents of James Johnson and Rockefeller and their divergent outlook and policies and associations make it unavoidable that the people of Arkansas decide which way their state is to go on racial justice, on economic growth, and on two-party government. It will be a clear-cut decision in Arkansas for these reasons:

DO THE AMERICAN people intend to halt or greatly slow down the thrust toward equal civil rights and the movement to end racial discrimination? Are teen-age race riots going to open the way to the election of public officials whose dominant purpose is to repress violence rather than to deal faithfully with their causes?

Here is Arkansas the choice is between avowed and convinced segregationist Johnson, a former state organizer for the White Citizens Council, and an avowed, convinced moderate, Rockefeller, who proposes to genuinely carry out the law of the land.

DOES THE FEDERAL government have a proper and useful role to play in helping state and local government cope with mounting economic and social problems?

Johnson scorns all the efforts of the federal government from the war on poverty to the battle against discrimination as "interference." He attacks the President for just about everything.

Rockefeller does not at all relish an all-powerful federal government absorbing the rights and discharging responsibilities the state should be discharging. But he does not propose to deal with Washington as an alien or an enemy. He commends the "many fine federal programs which greatly benefit Arkansas."

TWO-PARTY government has been making headway in different parts of the South, especially in the election of Republican Congressmen and state legislators. But not in Arkansas.

Gov. Faubus contends, with no dissent from Johnson, that "we could not afford a two-party system in Arkansas."

Rockefeller contends that "Arkansas can develop best in a state with a two-party system of government."

All the evidence is that the Johnson-Rockefeller race is tight and uncertain. It could go either way. Whichever way it goes, Arkansas voters will be giving their answer to questions disturbing the whole nation.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Third Party Livens Pennsylvania Ballot

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

LATROBE, Pa. — Because campaign spending and a budding "third party" are becoming the dominating political factors, an otherwise dull Pennsylvania governorship race is coming to life and taking on national significance.

This unexpected turn of events is forcing Lt. Gov. Raymond Shafer, the GOP nominee, and industrialist Milton Shapp, his Democratic rival, to reassess their strategies for the final days of the Keystone State campaign.

Until the newly formed ultra-right Constitutional Party won the right to place on the ballot its candidate for governor, Edward Schwartz of Hummelstown, the local polls showed Shafer leading Shapp by a comfortable 46 to 41 per cent throughout the state.

HERE IN THE picturesque Laurel Highlands of Western Pennsylvania, the forecasts of both parties were that Shafer would roll up the normally heavy Republican majority needed in this rural area to offset Shapp's expected big margin in nearby Pittsburgh, a Democratic stronghold.

An on-the-spot survey taken by this column with the help of local college students shows that one out of every six Republicans interviewed (in a sampling of 108 voters) has switched to the "third party" candidate.

IN MARKED CONTRAST, only one out of every 18 Democrats has decided to change from Shapp to Schwartz since the Commonwealth Court ordered the Constitutional Party candidate's name placed on the Nov. 8 ballot.

Should this poll be anywhere near accurate, its results indicate a real ding-dong Shafer-Shapp contest with the former's early lead being erased by Republican defections to the "third party."

Shapp, being supported vigorously by Vice President Humphrey, is hoping this unsolicited "third party" help will offset recent gains among voters made by Shafer with his charge that the Democratic candidate is trying to "buy the governorship."

Both political camps agree that this issue has been Shafer's best vote-getter since the millionaire Shapp admitted to spending $1.4 million of his own money to win the Democratic primary.

JOSEPH NAPOLITAN, the public relations expert handling the Democrat's multi-million-dollar TV-radio-direct mail - newspaper advertising blitz, is saying that for Shapp to win he must change this growing image among voters.

A half-hour television documentary film picturing Shapp as a successful businessman seeking to dedicate the rest of his life to public service is now being readied by Gruggenheim Productions, Inc.

AS A COUNTER to this TV blitz, the Republicans plan to hit back with new figures on Shapp's latest personal campaign spending, pumping new life into their charge that the industrialist is trying to buy his way into power.

According to GOP state leaders, a Shafer victory would lay the groundwork for the launching next year of a drive for nation-wide support to put Gov. William Scranton on the 1968 GOP presidential ticket.

A GOP loss, they admit, would remove Scranton as a political power on the national scene, and could open the way for Pennsylvania supporters of former GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater to exert their influence on the national scene.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Sen. Burns' Experience Will Be Highly Valuable In 'New' Senate

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Nearly 1,000 persons were in Fresno recently to honor a man who has come to personify the California state senate—Hugh M. Burns, the senator from Fresno County who has been president pro tempore of the upper house since 1957.

As testimonials go for prominent state officials, it was not a dazzler. There were no Hollywood personalities present for entertainment purposes. But the people who filled the hall were friends of Hugh Burns and he knew them all.

There was a stack of telegrams offering congratulations, but only one letter was read as the time did not permit more. That one was from President Johnson.

ANOTHER DIFFERENCE about Burns' testimonial—the first ever held for him in his more than 30 years of legislative service—was that the people who bought tickets showed up for the dinner. In many cases nowadays, people buy tickets to a dinner because they want to express their support or feel obligated to chip in—then they give the tickets away or don't bother to use them.

The brief program brought tributes to Burns' leadership from Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh and Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, minority leader in the senate and seatmate of the guest.

While Burns' testimonial dinner might have represented a high point in his public life, it seemed also to accent the very difficult tasks that lie ahead for the upper house leader. For the senate will have a new membership in 1967, one controlled by the southern urban areas.

IT WILL BE UP to Burns and his co-workers to work out some sort of a balance if the two-house system of the legislature is to retain any similarity to the legislature as it has been known over the years. Burns probably is as well fitted to tackle this chore as any person in California.

In his earlier days in the state senate, it was a house controlled by tough Republican conservatives — the likes of Ben Hulse, George Hatfield, Harry Parkman, Bill Rich and Ralph Swing. When the assembly was heard from, it was in quiet, respectful terms.

BUT THE PATTERN began to change about 15 years ago. Some of the older members retired or passed on. The Democrats began a comeback effort which culminated in 1958 with their taking over control of both houses of the legislature for the first time in the century.

The senators who replaced the old guard, more often than not, were from the big cities in the rural districts. They had new views and more liberal inclinations.

At the same time, a more aggressive leadership was developing in the assembly — they no longer were content to sit back and take what the senate wanted to give them.

This period of transition was a time when senate leaders had to be able to translate the handwriting on the wall. They had to exert the leadership which would keep the senate in its traditional position of a check against the urban-minded assemblymen, but be willing to compromise when it was necessary.

SENATOR BURNS, probably more than any other senator, guided the upper house through these transitory times and the two-house system has remained intact.

But he will be the first to admit that the immediate years ahead will make the past transition seem like a lark.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A. LINCOLN GINSBERG, noted Israel sage, was walking with his son down a country lane behind their donkey, who was contentedly nibbling grass along the way. A passerby, noting that A. Lincoln and the boy were perspiring freely, suggested, "Why don't you fellows ride the donkey instead of walking?"

A. Lincoln accepted the advise, but farther down the lane another inhabitant scoffed, "You should be ashamed, making that poor beast carry two riders."

A. Lincoln dismounted and let his son ride alone, only to hear the next man they met sigh, "That boy should be ashamed, letting his poor fool of a father walk in the heat while he rides in comfort."

So A. Lincoln got back on the donkey, and the son walked. What this provoked from the NEXT man they met was, "Look at that selfish old man riding while his young son has to walk!"

That's the point where A. Lincoln Ginsberg made his famous observation, "You can't please any of the people any of the time."

Relaxing Or On Big Screen, Julie Andrews Just The Same

NEW YORK — "I don't feel particularly steeped in philosophy today," said Julie Andrews, curling neatly in the sofa of her Park Avenue hotel suite.

She wore a beige turtleneck ribbed sweater and beige and gray checked tweed trousers, and she looked impossibly lovely.

Although she was too beautifully mannered to say no, Julie didn't feel particularly like being interviewed either. It was a fine autumn afternoon, and what she wanted to do was go for a stroll and shop at a toy store for a new doll for her daughter, Emma, who will be 4 next month.

MISS ANDREWS, in the dozen years since she made her Broadway debut in the role of a British flapper of the 1920s, has become a world-known entertainment figure.

She came here for the premiere of "Hawaii," one of six films she has done since 1962.

"They kind of snowballed," she said, "and I was exhausted. But I feel fine now."

After a holiday of some weeks, she will start on a filmed biography of the late musical comedy star, Gertrude Lawrence.

IT'S HARD to portray someone else, particularly one so recently here," she remarked. "I never met her, but I feel I know her. The difficult thing, without doing a straight impersonation of the lady, will be trying to convey what an enormous personality she was."

At 31, Julie herself has become an enormous personality. She combines a cheery warmth with an unmistakable reserve, a bit as Alice in Wonderland might be if she had gone to Radcliffe. She is no longer a childhood Cinderella, but a Cinderella growing used to life in the castle.

SHE STILL thinks of life as a quest, however.

"It's a search for the truth in it," she said, "to try to separate the real things from the unreal, to find out what one's personal values are. A sense of humor is awfully important, too."

Julie's perfect courtesy doesn't permit her to say anything mean about someone else —or anything unkind about herself. Asked what she thought her biggest fault was, she said, laughing:

"Most people seem to think I'm a sweet, kind, gentle lady who can work miracles and is good to everyone—and I am. I'd rather let others say what my faults are."

HER LIKES and dislikes?

"I like my daughter, California, potato sandwiches, work, sleep, the season of spring, Friday because it's the day before Saturday, the scent of lilacs, wearing white clothing, and blues and coral colors for fun; textured things in fabrics and paintings, rain, being with close friends. I adore the smell of gasoline and subway stations and most of all, the smell of earth in a greenhouse with the thermostat turned up.

"I dislike traffic jams, too much heat in homes, bitter chocolate, bird of paradise flowers, and sound of police sirens, big parties—they drive me up the wall—and mothers who force their small children to look at 'Mary Poppins'."

As the interview ended, her perfect courtesy again came to the fore.

"I hope," she said, "I haven't been too facetious?"

The Security Check Can Lead You To Hating Your Best Pal

WASHINGTON—The Senate internal security subcommittee just released classified material involving the security clearance of eight distinguished American citizens. It was unevaluated material gathered by Otto F. Otepka and many people protested that this kind of thing harked back to the McCarthy era.

I didn't realize how dangerous something like this could be until I was interviewed by a security specialist from one of the government agencies, who was checking up on a good friend of mine who was being considered for an important job.

WE SHALL CALL my friend Bill Hoganblatt, and I knew him from my days in Paris.

The security man was very friendly. "How long have you known Hoganblatt?" he asked me.

"About 18 years," I replied. "I want to say he's one of the finest men I've ever had the pleasure to be associated with. He's a good father, a kind husband, a loyal friend and a great American."

"WHAT KIND of people did he associate with during the years in Paris?"

"All kinds. Writers, artists, businessmen. Bill was a very democratic guy."

"Anything strange about these people?"

"Well, some of them were strange. I mean we lived in Paris, and you tend to meet a lot of strange people there — you know, nuts of all kinds."

"COME TO THINK of it, I think there were. At least some of them had strong political convictions, but I don't believe Bill—then again he never did say much about politics."

"Didn't you find this strange?" the investigator asked as he took notes.

"What about girls?"

"Bill wasn't much of a ladies' man when he was in Paris."

"That's quite interesting. He didn't like girls then?"

"NO, HE LIKED girls. As a matter of fact he had several girl friends when he was in Paris."

"Then you'd say he was promiscuous?"

"Let me think. Yeah, he was more promiscuous than he wasn't. To tell the truth, he was a rake."

"Would you say he liked foreign girls better than American girls?"

"I remember once he had two dates—one with a French girl and one with an American girl, and he stood up the American girl."

"HOW DID YOU feel about that?"

"Well, at the time it didn't bother me, but now that you bring it up it was a dirty thing to do. It makes you wonder about a fellow like that."

"You said it; I didn't. What about his drinking habits?"

"As far as I know he never touched the stuff at all."

"Then you'd call him a secret drinker?"

"Come to think of it he probably was. I never trusted a guy who wouldn't drink in public."

"WHAT ELSE can you remember about him?"

"He used to go to the museum in Paris a lot."

"Did you ever see him go to a museum?"

"No, he just said he did."

"Then he could have gone anywhere during those times. Even to the Soviet Embassy."

"By golly, he could have. I wouldn't have put it past him."

"One more question. As an American citizen would you want Hoganblatt to work for your government?"

"I should say not! I didn't realize what a contemptible rat he was until I talked to you. For all I know he's another Alger Hiss, and I hope he gets what's coming to him real soon."

Pike Severs More Church Ties In Feud

Demands Louttit Correct Statement On Luci Baptism

The controversial former Episcopal bishop of California told the Greensboro Record he was resigning so his diocese or his successor will not be officially involved in his dispute with the Rt. Rev. Henry Louttit, Episcopal bishop of South Florida.

LUCI REMARK

Bishop Louttit has initiated heresy charges against Pike and in recent days has been involved in a second controversy with the Californian over Pike's remarks about Luci Johnson Nugent joining the Roman Catholic Church.

Pike today demanded a public correction of a statement last Thursday by Louttit, in which he charged Pike had been "judgmental" against Luci Nugent.

Pike said that if there is not such a correction forthcoming he may attempt civil or ecclesiastical action or both against Bishop Louttit.

ECUMENICAL ISSUE

Pike said he is demanding a correction by Louttit "to help repair the damage to his ecumenical relationship with Roman Catholic universities and seminaries" at which he frequently speaks on theology.

Pike, a staff member at the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions in Santa Barbara, Calif., is in Durham on a four-day speaking engagement at Duke University. He resigned as bishop of the California Episcopal diocese last May.

TO STAY ACTIVE

Pike said his resignation today as auxiliary bishop of California will not curtail his church activities there and he will remain as an honorary canon of Grace Cathedral in San Francisco.

The dispute between Louttit and Pike over Luci Nugent's conversion to Catholicism centers on interpretations of remarks Pike made July 4, 1965. Pike criticized the rebaptizing of the President's daughter, saying her baptism in the Episcopal Church should have been recognized by the Roman Catholic Church.

BISHOP SILENT

Bishop Louttit, contacted at Orlando, Fla., by the Greensboro Record, declined comment on Pike's demand for a public correction of his statements concerning Pike and the conversion of Luci Nugent. Louttit said he would first consult counsel for advice.

He said Pike's resignation as auxiliary bishop was welcome news.

The charges of heresy brought by Louttit against Pike concern Pike's interpretation of church doctrine on the Trinity and Virgin birth. They are to be heard at a House of Bishops meeting Oct. 23-27 at Wheeling, W. V.

Rafferty Didn't Break Any Law

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Dist. Atty. John M. Price has ruled that Dr. Max Rafferty did not violate the state's "Little Hatch Act" or any other law by inviting Ronald Reagan to speak last month to the Department of Education.

Price was asked to investigate "possible" violations on the part of rafferty by Assemblyman Charles Garrigus, D-Reedly, chairman of the Assembly Committee on Education.

Thomas Braden, president of the board of education, was denied permission to represent Gov. Edmund G. Brown at the conference. Braden acused Rafferty of "political misuse of office."

Larkspur Planners For Uniform Zoning

Larkspur Planning Commission last night recommended to the city council that the city co-operate in a county-wide project to make wording and format in zoning ordinances uniform.

The commission continued to Oct. 25 Calvary Baptist Church's request for a permit for a parking lot at Holcomb and Baltimore streets and William Soule's request for a variance to build a six-foot fence.

Public Hearing Set On Gallinas Park

County Help May Be Given In Development

Gallinas Village Community Services District will hold a public hearing tonight on a park development plan that may, just possibly, get county assistance.

The meeting is to begin at 8 p.m. at John McPhail School. Directors of the community services district, which was formed primarily to operate a sewer system but turned that over to Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District and is now devoted to parks and recreation, want their public's comments on a plan for developing a one-acre park site on Descanso Way.

The plans call for a tennis court, tot lot and grassy picnic area. The little park would be called John D. O'Connor Park, in honor of the developer who donated the site.

Chairman Byron W. Leydecker, whose First District includes Gallinas Village, said Gallinas residents have suffered from "greatly inadequate facilities because of the inadequacy of county engineering services several years ago." "We can pour half a million dollars into development of Paradise Beach Park. I don't see why we can't throw a miserable $10,000 to these people," said Leydecker.

Supervisors William A. Gnoss and Ernest N. Kettenhofen agreed, but asked for more information on the community services district's development plans. Supervisors Peter H. Behr and Thomas T. Storer were absent.

County park and recreation director Pierre W. Joske said the $42,000 in his budget for park acquisition and development has already been committed for other projects.

Leydecker said he thought the figure was $69,000, but later recalled the sum was cut. "There was considerable confusion that day," he said, referring to the June budget session.

PARK PLAN—This is how Descanso Park—or John D. O'Connor Park, as it may be named — would be developed according to plans being considered by the Gallinas Village Community Services District. A public hearing on the plan will be held at 8 p.m. today at John MacPhail School.

Mill Valley Subdivision Gets Veto

Mill Valley Planning Commission last night denied a plan by Manuel Gomez for 10 lots on a 6.4-acre parcel north of Marlin and Avon avenues.

Commissioners agreed with the recommendation of the architectural advisory committee that the plan be denied on the grounds of unacceptable road configuration, unstudied relationships between the topography and buildings, and the building relationships to the road.

The commission deferred review of routes for an improved Shoreline Highway under its new meeting schedule on the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

The commission will have a joint meeting with the county planning commission Nov. 14 at 8 p.m., tentatively at City Hall, to discuss Richardson Bay and Tamalpais Junction zoning, extension of Miller Avenue, and routing of Highway 1.

Action on the Cochran-Hernandez precise development plan on Edgewood Avenue was deferred to Oct. 24, pending a report from City Atty. Leland H. Jordan on legal problems in deeding open space to the city.

$868,000 Included In Bill For Marin

Applications totalling $868,000 for Marin flood control were approved by the U. S. Senate today as it sent a total of $4.1 billion in public works projects to the White House for presidential approval, the Associated Press reported from Washington.

The omnibus bill includes $850,000 for the first phase construction of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project and $18,000 for flood control studies on Novato Creek.

Club Agrees To Add Youth To Its Board

Homestead Valley Improvement Club members agreed last night to add a seat on the club's 12-man board to be filled by a representative of youth in the valley.

Formation of a club-sponsored youth group had been considered, but members agreed to bring young people into the club on an equal footing with adult members.

Directors will meet Oct. 25 at 8 p.m. at Brown's Hall, Mill Valley, to discuss methods of selecting a youth representative and dues and a program for young members.

A proposal by Mill Valley City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer that valley residents request annexation to the city will be discussed at the meeting.

Members unanimously endorsed state Prop. 3, which would permit taxing of open area on the basis of existing use, and the Marin County Conservation League's criteria for use of Mount Tamalpais.

Josephine Carson Rider, Mill Valley author, spoke about her trip last year to Lowndes County, Ala., where she visited tent communities of Negro sharecroppers evicted because they registered to vote. Mrs. Rider asked that persons interested in helping the sharecroppers to notify her.

Highway 17 Hearing Set Tomorrow Night

San Anselmo City Council will have a public hearing on proposed routes for Highway 17 extension at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Wade Thomas School.

Wrong Engineer

In yesterday's Independent-Journal, a story about a sidewalk under construction by the Tiburon City Council erroneously attributed a city engineer's report to Arthur T. Knutsen, assistant county public works director who was formerly Tiburon's city engineer. Present Tiburon city engineer is Raymond W. Foreaker Jr. of San Rafael.

McConnell Resigns Mill Valley Office

G. R. McCONNELL
'Personal, professional reasons'

G. R. McConnell, Mill Valley School District Superintendent for nine years, yesterday submitted his resignation effective next June 30, for "personal and professional considerations."

McConnell's four-year contract expires on that date.

"This has been a difficult decision," he wrote in letters to all trustees, "for after 13 years in the system, nine as superintendent, I have many fond memories and the greatest respect for the staff, faculty, and citizens of the community."

The board's "strong endorsement of the suggestions of the professional council with respect to the fortheoming bond issue makes this letter much easier to compose," he said. "It is good to know that you support unanimously a far-reaching program of upgrading and modernization of Mill Valley's elementary schools. I am certain that; together, we can convey the wisdom of your decisions and obtain voter approval in 1967.

"Confident that this will be the case, I am declining your offer of last January for a four-year continuation of my contract. Personal and professional considerations require that I be free to make other arrangements upon completion of our existing agreement on June 30, 1967.

"I am looking forward to vigorous participation in the months preceding the spring election and the initial phases of the construction program to follow. It will be an exciting experience."

McConnell could not be reached for comment on his plans.

Prosecutor Outlines His Case In Giant Bookie Ring

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A predominantly female jury heard a federal prosecutor outline his case today against 10 men accused of collecting nearly $8 million in bookie bets without buying gambling stamps or paying taxes.

Paul Sloan, assistant U.S. attorney, told the eight women and four men that Tony Ruiz, 39, a South San Francisco vending operator, headed up the operations in San Francisco and San Mateo counties for the seven lucrative years from 1959 into 1965.

His father, Joaquin Ruiz, 60, also is a defendant. Others accused are: Charles M. O'Neill, 37, of Mill Valley, former University of California basketball star; four bartenders, Phillip M. Zarba, 28, David G. Marcelli, 36, Eugene B. Findley, 35, and Grover C. Miles, 41; a former dance instructor, Carl E. Eckstein, 34; a printer, Jack Graham, 57, and a restaurant employee, Samuel C. Winters, 31.

Forum Set. Oct. 19

A typographical error in yesterday's Independent-Journal changed the date of a candidates' night sponsored by the Southern Marin League of Women Voters and the Mill Valley Branch of the American Assn. of University Women from Oct. 19 to Oct. 18. The forum will be held Oct. 19 at 8 p.m. in the Tamalpais High School auditorium.

State Denies Tunnel Work Speed Hearing

California Public Utilities Commission yesterday denied a petition to hold a hearing on whether reconstruction of Northwestern Pacific Railroad's Puerto Suello Tunnel is proceeding in satisfactory manner.

The commission held that regular inspections of the work by commission staff engineers has disclosed that 40 per cent of the task was completed by Sept. 16, and the petition to reopen the proceedings "does not appear warranted at the present time."

PLEA EXPLAINED

The railroad has a completion deadline of Dec. 31.

Boris H. Lakusta, attorney for San Rafael and Marin County in their effort to restore mainline railroad service to San Rafael, said today he filed the petition Sept. 21 to determine the exact progress in the project.

"We have no definite basis for knowing how the tunnel is progressing unless someone actually sends engineers to inspect it," he said.

NEXT MARCH?

"I made a rough calculation that if they progress at the same rate they did six weeks prior to Sept. 16," Lakusta said, "they will be sometime into March of 1967 before they finish."

The tunnel has been closed since a fire July 22, 1961. An earlier completion deadline was extended by the commission July 19.

Lomita Park Zones Shift To Help Foot Sewer Costs

Marin County supervisors yesterday approved rezoning for some areas of Lomita Park on the west side of Highway 101 and south of San Rafael.

Generally the changes lowered the allowable residential density, changing apartment property on Altena Street from a required 1,500 square feet of land per unit to 3,500 square feet and on three lots on the south side of Auburn street from 1,500 square feet to a 2,500 square feet requirement.

The flat, undeveloped area along Auburn Street was left in single-family zone with 6,000 square-foot lots required. On the top of the hill, along Tiburon Boulevard and Oakhurst and Bret Harte roads, the zone will remain in half-acre lots.

SEWER BILL COSTS

Property on the south side of Orange Street was changed from 25,000-square foot to a 10,000-square foot minimum lot requirement.

The request for change was prompted by a proposed sewer assessment in connection with improvements ordered by the San Rafael Sanitation District.

The district relies heavily on zoning in spreading assessments. If the zone allowed high density, the assessment would be higher than on property with low density zoning.

"We don't necessarily agree that this is the best way to do it," County Counsel Dougles J. Maloney told supervisors.

BRANDED UNFAIR

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen thought the zone change unfair in such areas as that south of Orange street, where density will increase under the zone. "Here the time for these people to protest the improvement has passed and now the zone will be changed, increasing the assessment," Kettenhofen said.

Maloney said the residents would still have a chance to protest the assessment spread.

The hearing produced one surprise for Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker. He wondered how the three lots on Auburn Street were ever zoned for apartments "right in the middle of a single family area."

Eddie Oliver, owner of one of the lots, produced a copy of the board minutes of Oct. 7, 1963, when the rezoning was approved. "Here it is; 'ayes, Behr, Gnoss, Leydecker and Fusselman,' " Oliver said.

Leydecker later recalled that when he first came on the board, fellow board members would go along with the supervisors in whose district the issue was. "If he had no objections, we approved," Leydecker said. The area was then in former Supervisor William D. Fusselman's Second District.

Supervisors Extend Relief For Youth

A 20-year-old Marin youth, unfit for military service on a "psychiatric basis" and out of the Job Corps because of a shift in jobs he did not like, will continue to receive $75 a week in general relief from the county for another two weeks.

Marin County supervisors ordered the continuance yesterday and asked the county social service (welfare) department to see if the youth can be trained for some kind of work.

The board had previously approved a 90-day extension on relief with the idea that the application for readmittance to the Job Corps would soon be approved. But approval never came. "I think we should try something else," Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said.

The report by Lois Campbell of the welfare department said the man "has attended pot parties at various times." "Pot" is the slang term for marijuana.

Kettenhofen said this information was not in the earlier report from the department. Miss Campbell said the dope situation came to light since then.

The man's mother has been in prison and his father committed suicide eight months ago. The youth was in a state hospital at age 13 and in juvenile hall at age 16.

Theater Council Plans Meeting

The Regional Theater Council of the American National Theater and Academy will hold its annual meeting Oct. 29 and 30 at the Festival Theater on the grounds of the San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo.

A critic's symposium, tour of College of Marin's drama and music complex, the council's annual meeting, a performance of "The Typist and the Tiger" by the festival theater, and a buffet dinner hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Jiri Herrmann at Kent Woodlands will be included in the two-day meeting.

Balestrieri Promoted By County

Mario T. Balestrieri was promoted from county equipment superintendent to assistant public works director by the board of supervisors yesterday.

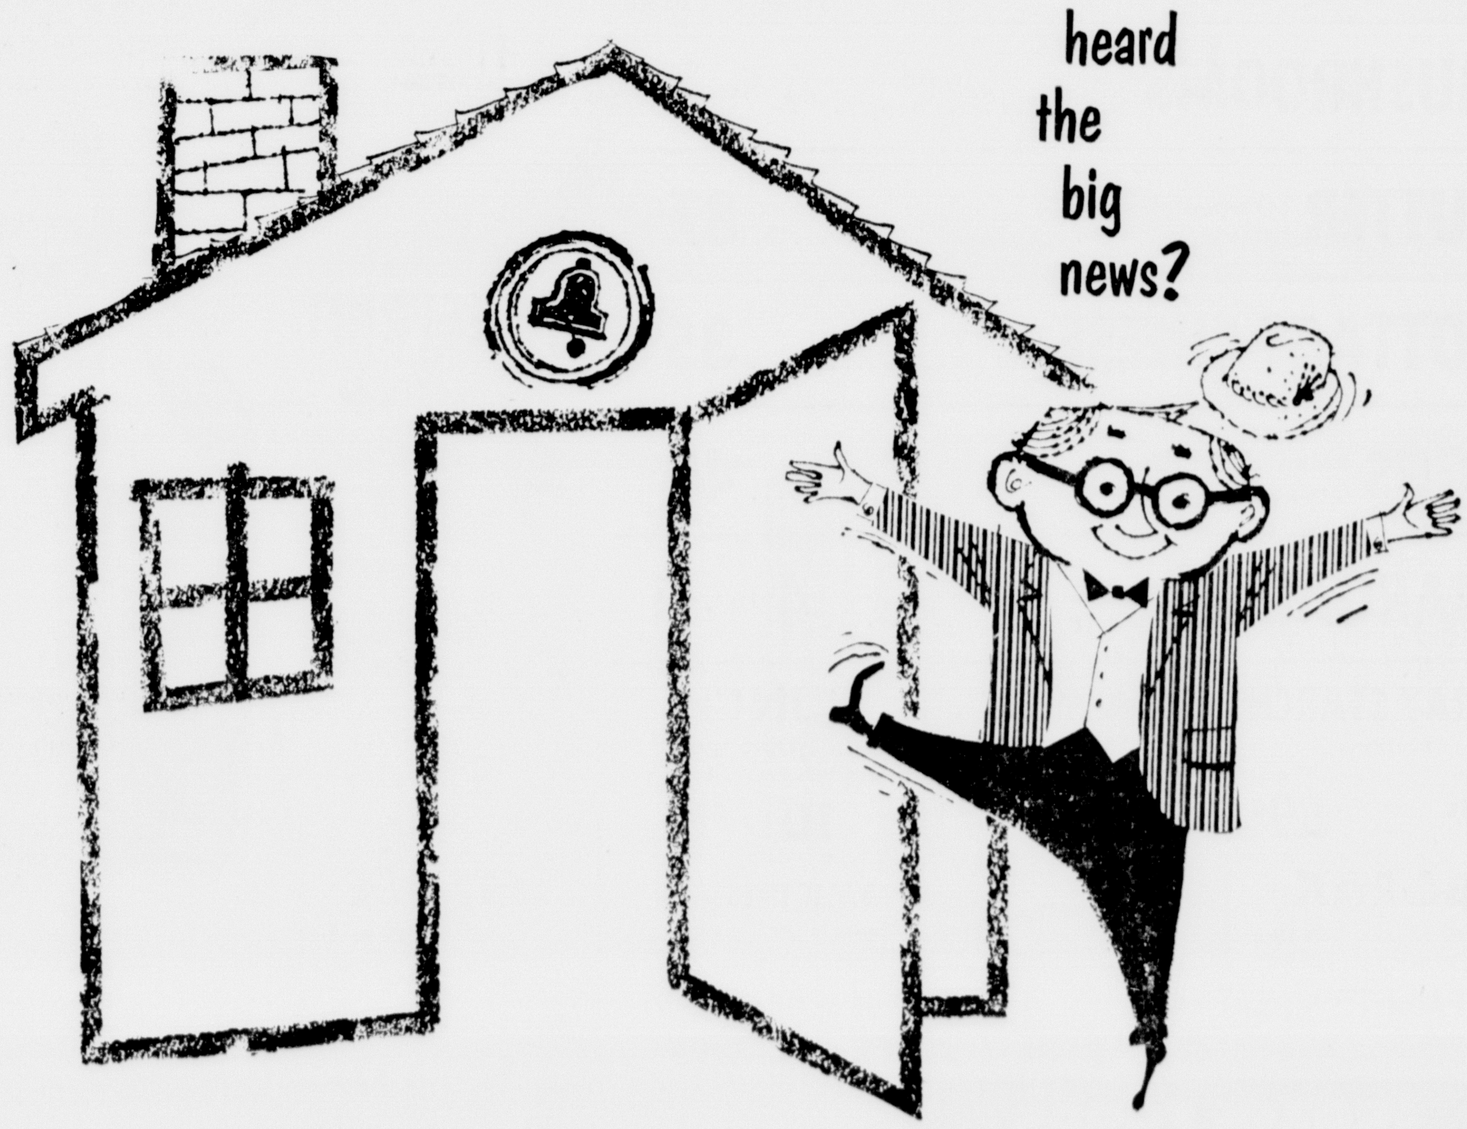

Balestrieri, going from $1,998 to $1,058 a month with the promotion, replaces Joe H. Henderson, who resigned to become assistant city manager of Santa Rosa.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said Balestrieri will continue to be in charge of the county garage, and some of Henderson's duties have been assigned the engineering department.

Supervisors hired William Perry as director of the children's center (pre-school program) at $650 a month; Donna M. Tussandori as senior stenographer clerk in the public health department at $419, and Janice L. Brown as social services practioner I at $650.

Castro Improving

Walter R. Castro Jr., member of the San Rafael Board of Education who was hospitalized with a heart attack last Thursday, was reported improving at Marin General Hospital.

The chapter has also endorsed Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Norbert Schlei for secretary of state.

FOR YOUNG

Murder Trial Date To Be Set Nov. 7

Date for jury trial for Eugene A. Boehm, charged with murder and with felony child-beating in the death of a 16-month-old boy, is to be set in Marin Superior Court Nov. 7.

Boehm, 21, allegedly beat Timothy Wayne Buckley, over a three-week period prior to the infant's death in Marin General Hospital on Aug. 13. The defendant, the child, Mrs. Roberta Marie Buckley, 21, mother of the victim, and Michael Todd all resided at 70 Lucky Drive, Greenbrae, at the time.

Library Site Fued Continues

A growing dispute between Sausalito's library board and planning commission over site for a new library will be aired at a special meeting of the commission at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

The board recommended Oct. 3 that the library be built on a city-owned site northeast of Vina Del Mar Plaza, known locally as "The Hole."

Several planning commissioners, however, agreed last Wednesday that there are other possible sites, and set tonight's meeting to review other site possibilities.

Equipment Stolen

Daniel J. Ritter of 37 Sirard Lane, San Rafael, told Novato police yesterday that someone stole $75 worth of construction equipment from his truck while it was parked at Drakewood Lane and Drakewood Place, Novato, from Sunday to yesterday.

Morals Charge Plea Entered

Eugene J. McCann Jr., 39-year-old television announcer, yesterday pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court to two counts of lewd and lascivious behavior with minors. He is to be sentenced at 10 a.m. Nov. 1.

McCann, arrested last Feb. 21 at his home in Millbrae, had pleaded innocent to the charges but changed his plea on his appearance in court yesterday after several continuances of the case.

The acts occurred in Sausalito and San Rafael between February of 1965 and January of this year.

Group Against Tourist Terminal

Tiburon's planning commissioners, city councilmen and parks and recreation commissioners last night discussed possible state acquisition of waterfront area for use as Angel Island service facilities and were unanimous in disapproving of Tiburon being used as a tourist terminal for the island.

If facilities could not be based elsewhere, the group hoped they could be constructed back from the shoreline of the central waterfront.

New Englanders Claimed Backing Reagan's Cause

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The Republican state finance chairman says some of the Connecticut party's most well-to-do members have "seen fit to send more than $400,000" to Ronald Reagan, the GOP gubernatorial candidate in California, and other candidates in other states.

At the same time, said Frank O. H. Williams, these persons have "denied support" to the Republican campaign in Connecticut.

"I find a small but affluent group within our party has seen fit to send more than $400,000 out of the state in support of Reagan in California and the GOP gubernatorial candidates in Texas and Georgia," he said.

"Of course, this is their privilege, but it does seem unreasonable for them to deny support of the Republican ticket in their home state," Williams said.

Republican State Chairman A. Searle Pinney, asked today if the $400,000 figure in Williams' letter was correct, replied:

"I don't have personal knowledge of that. That information came from discussions he's had with various people."

Asked if he thought the party finance chairman had information that was reliable, Pinney said yes.

Williams was asked if one of the contributors he claims are defecting from the Connecticut campaign and sending money to other states was Gordon Reed of Greenwich, a wealthy Republican whose son, Thomas, is Reagan's campaign manager in California.

"I'm not going to identify anyone," Williams said.

Gordon Reed, a conservative, was state party finance chairman in Connecticut until last year, but is no longer on good terms with the present liberal-led state organization.

"That doesn't include me," Reed said today when asked if he were one of those Williams said sent $400,000 out of state. "The figure's ridiculous anyway—it might be 5 per cent of that."

Damaged Truck

Bernard Staymates of Shamrock Materials Inc. 665 Irwin Street, San Rafael, told police Monday that two trucks parked next to the building were damaged by vandals during the weekend. He estimated damages at $100.

Sanitary Board To Return Some Unused Funds

Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District directors last night agreed to return unused assessment funds totaling almost $8,600 to residents of the Fairview Park Assessment District.

Board chairman Francis M. Small Jr. estimated several hundred residents would receive $37 per assessment.

Henry Lacaze, owner of Henry's Service of Stinson Beach, reported that garbage service in the district was "going smoothly."

Directors will meet at 7 p.m. Monday at the district office to consider annexation of the southern portion of the Dias Ranch to the district. Alfred E. Stern, the ranch owner, has consented to annexation.

A rule of thumb is the more you pay for a tire, the more you get from it. More wear, mileage, rubber, that sort of thing.

But how can you tell if you're buying more tire than you really need? Or worse, not getting enough?

Use our Tire Value Calculator. This handy little cardboard device asks seven easy questions about the way you drive. You answer the questions and the Calculator tells you which of our tires suits you best. And that will be the least expensive BFG tire we'd recommend for your driving needs.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase; the morning stars are Mars and Jupiter; the evening star is Saturn.

American theologian Lyman Beecher was born on this day in 1775.

On this day in history:

In 1915, English nurse Edith Cavell was shot by a German firing squad for helping 200 Allied patriots gain freedom from occupied Belgium in World War I.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Accidental Card Pull Ruins Contract For Unlucky Expert

"A funny thing hapened to me the other day," remarked the Unlucky Expert.

"Just as I was about to make the winning play I got beaten by some stranger who pulled the wrong card out of his hand by accident."

The Unlucky Expert took the king of spades and the ace of diamonds, got to his hand with a high club and led his other diamond.

SAFETY PLAY

The idea was to finesse with dummy's ten as a safety play.

If the finesse lost, the rest of the suit would be good. If it won, he would be sure of at least four diamond tricks.

Four diamond tricks were enough to assure the contract.

BIG CHANGE

"That changed everything," he pointed out. "The only reason to finesse is to guard against five diamonds in West hand, and when West played the nine it was a cinch that he didn't have all the rest of the suit."

Unfortunately, West did have all of the diamonds. He later admitted that he had picked the nine of diamonds out of his hand by accident.

DOOMED PLAYER

After South had played the king of diamonds he was a doomed man. He tried for the clubs, but the suit broke badly. Nothing worked, and the Unlucky Expert once more earned his nickname.

I kept a straight face as I sympathized with the Unlucky Expert.

The stranger who played the nine of diamonds happened to be one of the best rubber bridge players in the country and makes more good plays by accident than the Unlucky Expert does on purpose.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one heart. When you have a choice of four-card suits for a response, make the cheapest response. If partner has a heart fit, he can raise; if he has spades, he can bid one spade very comfortably. Either way you will quickly discover whether or not you have a fit in either major suit.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Half Of All Kidney Stones Pass Naturally; Others Need Surgery

VAN DELLEN

About half of all kidney stones are passed spontaneously. This knowledge may be the only comfort derived from a painful attack of renal colic. When the rock is not passed, surgery usually is needed because the stone is impacted and obstructing the flow of urine.

Demerol or morphine and atropine are needed to relieve colic and relax the ureter so the stone can descend. This cannot occur when the concretion is too large or is stuck in the passageway. When the stone settles near the bladder, it may be possible to use a stone extractor or basket to manipulate the pebble in such a way that it can be removed.

NO ONE KNOWS why stones form in the urinary tract. The actual beginning of the stone, the nucleus or nidus, is made up of bacteria, fibrin, debris, or chemical crystals. Certain factors favor stone formation but the entire process is difficult to explain because some people are habitual formers and others are not.

Some of these concretions remain silent for years but the majority cause trouble eventually. They may cause obstruction or trigger an infection and are found when X-rays are made of the urinary tract. Acute renal colic is the most common symptom and occurs when the stones try to escape. Distress occurs as the stone moves through the narrowed ureter on its way to the bladder.

WHEN THE STONE is rough and irritates the ureter, the pain may be unbearable. The victim grunts, strains and changes position frequently. Discomfort begins in the back and, as the stones move downward, the pain descends around the front and radiates into the groin. There also may be an intense desire to urinate and occasionally blood is passed. Nausea, vomiting, and abdominal distention are common.

SINUS SPACES

J. H. T. writes: What are ethmoids?

REPLY

These are sinus spaces near the roof of the nose. They are involved in many nasal colds and were responsible for the persistent nasal discharge that many children had prior to the advent of the sulfonamides and penicillin.

PREGNANCY RARE AT 60

A reader writes: Would it be at all possible for a newly married woman of 60 to have a child? She has not menstruated in years.

REPLY

No, unless a mistake was made in preparing her birth certificate and she is 45 instead of 60. Pregnancy after the age of 50 is rare.

METABOLISM AND GOITER

Mrs. I. writes: Could a goiter be present if the metabolism test is normal?

REPLY

Yes, Goiter is an enlargement of the thyroid gland and has nothing to do with its activity as determined by the metabolic rate of special iodine tests.

CYSTITIS

M. F. writes: What is the cause of an inflamed bladder?

REPLY

The most common cause is infection somewhere along the urinary tract. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on cystitis.

HEATED BABY FOOD

J. A. writes: Should baby food be heated before serving?

REPLY

ICE IN BRONCHITIS

G.M. writes: My mother has bronchitis, which causes hard coughing. A nurse advised me to put an ice bag over her throat and chest to draw out the inflammation. Is this the right thing to do?

REPLY

An ice bag to the neck is standard treatment for sore throat but is not effective in bronchitis because cold cannot penetrate the inflamed bronchi. Most physicians recommend the inhalation of steam along with decongestants to ease coughing.

PERSPIRATION IN BED

REPLY

Some areas perspire more freely than others, among them the hands, feet, and forehead. While sleeping, perspiration on the extremities is absorbed by the bed linen whereas that on the forehead is not wiped off and hence is more noticeable.

SIDE EFFECT OF 'PILL'

A.R. writes: I read that birth control pills can cause pseudo-pregnancy. Are these pills perfected enough to be safe?

REPLY

Yes, considering the millions of women who now take these pills without side reactions. They do not cause pseudo-pregnancy, but create a hormonal state that mimics that which occurs during pregnancy. This is the reason why conception does not occur.

BOWED LEGS

P. E. B. writes: I am 33 years old and my legs are bowed above the knee. Am I too old to have this corrected?

REPLY

You are not too old, but a bit bold, considering the type of deformity. May I suggest that you consult an arthopedic surgeon and discuss what must be done to correct the bowing?

More Strep Throats

There were 46 cases of streptococcus infection, 35 of them in Novato, reported yesterday by the county health officer for the week ending Saturday. The only other communicable diseases reported were two cases of mumps.

Miniskirts Too Short For School

Higdon said he was enforcing school board rules that classroom dress must be appropriate.

"When three-quarters of their thigh is showing when they sit down, I think that dress is too short," Higdon said.

County Hires Human Rights Executive

Brauer will begin the $790 a month job Nov. 1. He is skills bank director for the Bay Area Urban League, a job he has had about a year. Prior to that he was personnel director for Wells Fargo Bank.

Brauer is president of the Berkeley Catholic Interracial Council, a member of the Berkeley Chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, and on the advisory council on testing for the Fair Employment Practices Commission.

He is a graduate of University of California, Berkeley, where he majored in political science.

Alston Named N.L. Manager Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Alston of Los Angeles was named the National League's Manager of the Year for the fourth time in an Associated Press poll today. This past season he led the Dodgers to their sixth pennant during his 13-year tenure.

Alston received 206 votes in the annual AP poll of baseball writers. Harry Walker of Pittsburgh was second with 130 votes and Wes Westrum of the New York Mets was third with 16. A total of 380 writers participated in the balloting based on the regular season.

The Dodgers' skipper also was the NL's Manager of the Yer in 1955, 1959 and 1965.

A 54-year-old former schoolteacher from Darrtown, Ohio, Alston made a success of one of his most challenging assignments in 1966. The Dodgers, who batted a collective .256 and whose 606 runs scored topped only two other teams in the league, did not clinch the pennant until their final game.

Los Angeles trailed the leading Pirates with three weeks remaining in the campaign but rallied behind the pitching of Sandy Koufax and reliever Phil Regan plus some timely hitting, notably by outfielder Lou Johnson. The Dodgers finished 1½ games ahead of second-place San Francisco and three ahead of Pittsburgh.

Walker had his strong hitting club in contention almost all the way. An exceptional batting instructor, his advice helped outfielder Matty Alou win the circuit's batting championship. Pittsburgh also wound up third in 1965, Walker's first year as the Pirates' pilot.

Westrum, in his first full season as a big league manager, directed the Mets to ningth place, their highest standing since they came into the league in 1962. The team won 66 games, 13 more than in any other previous campaign.

Billy Hitchcock, who took over seventh-place Atlanta from Bobby Bragan on Aug. 9 and led them to a fifth-place finish, was fourth in the balloting with 13 votes.

Grady Hatton of Houston and Dave Bristol of Cincinnati had four votes each. Then came Red Schoendienst of St. Louis, three votes; Gene Mauch of Philadelphia, two, and Leo Durocher of the Chicago Cubs and Herman Franks of San Francisco, one each.

Hank Bauer, who directed the Baltimore Orioles to their first American League pennant, was named that circuit's Manager of the Year earlier this week.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

Girls In Inter-Scholastic Sports Cause Some Problems

CALLING ALL GIRLS: Well, gang, it was bound to happen sooner or later.

They've ORGANIZED. Yes, the girls have started an interscholastic athletic program right here in Marin County high schools. They play volleyball, tennis and swimming now, but that's only the beginning. I expect softball, touch football, basketball, knitting and baking to follow shortly. After that, who knows?

Don't get me wrong. I'm all for girls in sports. For one thing, it keeps them occupied and is very healthy for them. Look at some of those Russian broads, for example. We may produce America's answer to Tamara Press right here in Marin County!

THE LOCAL girls' program already has caused me personal problems. Just the other day I-J sports writers Ralph Chatoian, Gary Tischler and Rob Harvey all requested assignments to cover the Marin Catholic-Drake swimming meet. But (heh-heh-heh), you know who assigned himself to that one, don't you?

I like the idea of cute little male harriers winning their own letters. The boys will get to keep their own now.

But, there again, lies a problem, to wit: "Hey, Claude. You still going steady with Minerva?"

STILL ANOTHER problem: What nicknames will they give the female versions of the San Rafael Bulldogs?

Or the Marin Catholic Wildcats?

I understand they'll call the Drake girls the "Pirettes," but that's only scuttlebutt. And Tamalpais' sporty little cookies will be known as the Squaws.

Will the female Novato Hornets be known as the Honeys, Stingers in the Rough or simply the Queen Bee-uties?

How about the Terra Linda Trojans (Helens?) and the Redwood Giants (Amazons?).

SOMETHING ELSE bothers me: By today's tonsorial standards, how will they know the girl athletes are really girls?

And someday, I suppose, the I-J will have to honor the Prep of the Weak.

COACHES OF Marin Catholic and San Rafael high school cross-country running teams face a demoralizing predicament, like so:

Last week, Joe Barni of San Rafael won first place in leading the Bulldogs to victory over Marin Catholic.

This week, however, because his parents moved to San Anselmo, Barni transferred to Drake where he will become that school's No. 1 man.

Meaning, of course, that when Marin Catholic meets Drake later this season the Wildcats will have to run up against the talented Barni again. He'll also be favored over his former teammates when Drake meets San Rafael in the next-to-last meet of the season.

DOWN CACTUS LANE

John Annerino, 17, isn't waiting for the snow to come around. He's already getting some practice in on his skis as he whizzes down a road dotted with cactus on skis equipped with rollers. The teen skier is practicing for the real thing when snow arrives on some Arizona mountains further north this winter. (AP Wirephoto)

USC OVER STANFORD BY 8

MSU Is 10-Point Choice

NEW YORK (UPI) —Unbeaten Michigan State, with a 4-0 mark, is a 10-point favorite to knock Ohio State out of the Big Ten race, when the two teams clash Saturday afternoon.

The Spartans, the top-rated college team in the nation, beat the Buckeyes by 25 points last year and appear certain to stall the sputtering Ohio State machine again. the Buckeyes lost a close one to Big Ten rival Illionis last week by a 10-9 margin.

Fast-moving Notre Dame, the No. 2 team, has been given the biggest margin by the oddsmakers, with the Irish a solid 25-point selection against North Carolina. Third-ranked Alabama holds a six-point edge over Tennessee in a battle that may affect the outcome of the Southeastern Conference title.

UCLA, the No. 4 team, is picked by 22 points to down Penn State; fifth-ranked Southern California is eight over Stanford; Nebraska (No. 6) is a 21-point choice over winless Kansas State in a Big Eight game.

Undefeated Georgia Tech, with an upset over Tennessee last week, is a nine-point pick over Auburn. Georgia Tech moved into seventh place this week, ousting Tennessee. Purdue, the No. 9 team, is a five-point choice over Michigan in another Big Ten battle, and tenth-rated Oklahoma a 10-point pick over Kansas.

In other games, Wisconsin is a slim one-point choice over Northwestern. Colgate is also a one-point choice against Princeton, and Colorado and Clemson hold one-point margins over Iowa State and Duke respectively.

Miami (Fla.) and Georgia meet Friday night, and the game is a tossup, as is the match between Kentucky and LSU. Florida State holds a three-point edge over Texas Tech, Arkansas is a three-point pick over Texas; Navy is favored by two over Pittsburgh; Harvard two over Cornell, and Illinois is a six-point pick against Indiana.

Virginia Tech is seven over Vanderbilt; Holy Cross seven over Boston University; Air Force one-touchdown over Oregon, Syracuse eight against Boston College; Maryland eight against West Virginia, Southern Methodist and Minnesota 10-point choices against Rice and Iowa respectively, and Missouri 12 over Oklahoma State.

In pro football Sunday, the unbeaten Dallas Cowboys are rated four points over the unbeaten St. Louis Cardinals in a game that may decide the Eastern Division champion in the National Football League.

Green Bay is rated even against arch-rival Chicago, and the Los Angeles Rams, who share the lead in the Western Division with the Packers are a three-point pick against Minnesota.

In other NFL action, Washington is favored by seven over New York; Philadelphia by five against Pittsburgh, the Baltimore Colts by 14 over Detroit and the San Francisco 49ers by nine over Atlanta.

San Diego is a slim two-point pick against Buffalo in American Football League action. Kansas City holds a two-touchdown edge over Oakland, New York a five point pick against Houston, and Denver nine points over Miami.

JAPANESE SWIM TEAM SET FOR MARIN MEET

A Japanese national swimming team composed of six boys and two girls will compete against outstanding Bay Area swimmers in an invitational meet at College of Marin on Oct. 20, it was announced yesterday.

The Marin meet, which will start at 5:30 p.m., will be co-sponsored by the Marin Pirates Swim Club and College of Marin.

The Bay Area team will be selected this weekend, according to Mrs. George Shistar of the Marin Pirates, meet coordinator.

Wheels Grinding For Monterey Grand Prix

The actual race doesn't start until Saturday but preparatory activities will start tomorrow for this meeting of top sports cars with a technical inspection of all cars and registration at race headquarters.

Cars built and owned by Joe Huffaker of Novato, Nadeau Bourgeault of Sausalito and Marvin Webster of Mill Valley are entered in the three-day extravaganza.

Tickets for the race can be obtained in Marin County at Bud Olsen's Marin Sports and Imports and at the Personnel Services Building at Hamilton Air Force Base. In addition, tickets will be sold at Leguna Seca.

Injun Halfback May Miss Game

STANFORD (AP) — Stanford halfback Tim Abena has a bruised shoulder that could prevent him from playing Saturday against undefeated Southern California.

But the Indians got one piece of good news during their Tuesday workout. Speedy flanker Bob Blunt, who sat on the sidelines with injuries last Saturday as Stanford lost 7-3 to Oregon, looked healthy.

Top Names Try For Riches Of Sahara Golf Invitational

Continuing along the PGA winter circuit, the 72-hole event is slated to wind up Saturday—instead of the usual Sunday—winner collecting $20,000 for the four days' effort.

The scene is the 7,069 - yard Paradise Valley Country Club, with par 36-35—71.

Casper knocked five shots off par a year ago. The San Diego star, Nicklaus and Palmer hurried here after competing in the World match play event in England last week.

Nicklaus won the Sahara in 1963 with a 276, while young Dick Sikes, who is also back for a helping of desert gold, won in 1964 with 275.

The weatherman promised good weather, but at this time of year this resort area can experience sudden cloudbursts or wind storms. The first round was washed out a few years ago, and just last Monday the place was inundated by a flash storm.

While the tournament is billed as a $111,111.11 event, it boils down officially to $100,000 because the two-day pro-amateur competition, which concluded Tuesday, is worth $11,111.11 in money for the pros and prizes for the amateurs.

Juan (Chi-Chi) Rodriguez and Ken Towns tied for first place honors in the 36-hole pro-am. Each picked up $695 for their seven-under-par scores in the individual competition.

The final round will be televised nationally over Sports Network, Inc., from 1 to 2 p.m., PDT.

Bucs Ask Waivers On Jerry Lynch

Lynch, 36, was used by the Pirates almost exclusively as a pinch hitter in the season just ended. He holds a major league record of 18 pinch-hit home runs and has a career total of 117 pinch hits.

Lynch broke into the majors with Pittsburgh in 1954. He went to Cincinnati in 1957 and returned to Pittsburgh during the 1963 season in a trade for Bob Skinner.

George Mira Wins Award As NFL's Player Of Week

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Something about the Green Bay Packers brings out the best in George Mira, the only quarterback in the National Football League with a perfect record against the champions.

Mira beat Green Bay in his rookie year, 1964 and lost to Dallas last season in two previous starts. With John (Million Dollar Arm) Brodie having his troubles, Coach Jack Christiansen decided to give Mira the third starting chance of his pro career last Sunday.

The former University of Miami star scrambled 38 yards on a run that set up the decisive touchdown against the Packers in a 21-20 victory and also threw two TD passes.

Although other quarterbacks made more spectacular yardage and hit for more scores, Mira's performance as a No. 2 boy getting a chance to start against Green Bay, earned recognition as The Associated Press' offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Mira completed nine of 21 for 104 yards, including scoring passes of 27 and eight to John David Crow, and ran for 46 yards on three carries.

Most of Mira's yardage came on the third play of the fourth quarter. He had just been dropped for a nine-yard loss and had a second-and-19 situation on the Packers' 46.

Green Bay's front four rushed him but he escaped, found his receivers covered and scrambled 38 yards to the Green Bay eight. On the next play he passed to Crow in the end zone for the TD that put the 49ers out front to stay.

"Mira kept us loose all day," Coach Jack Christiansen said. "The way he was running people will be asking me to make a halfback out of him."

The first TD pass came in a broken play. "I rolled right and couldn't see anybody open," said Mira. "Then I looked to the left and saw Crow waving his hands so I threw to him."

"Things like that happen to George," said Crow.

Holman Wins Collegiate Grid Honor

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN JOSE (AP) — Danny Holman had a football in his hands when he was 3-years-old.

Seventeen years later his job is to get it into the hands of someone else, and he does it so well he's been named collegiate back-of-the-week by The Associated Press.

Holman also wants it known the program weight for him is not correct. It says 160 pounds.

With 216 yards through the air against Cal, Holman continued to lead the nation's collegiate passers with 1,022 yards.

"That was the big game for us and before I went on the field, I was nervous," Danny admitted. "Nervousness just goes away when I warm up."

The quarterback's father, the late Art Holman, starred as a hurdler at the University of Oregon and introduced his youngster to athletics early.

Danny starred at Carmel High School and at Monterey Peninsula, a junior college, he connected on 87 of 138 throws for 1,512 yards and 25 touchdowns.

Despite his slender stature, he was wooed by several major universities and chose San Jose. Last spring he was understudy to Bill Casey. When Casey fractured an ankle just before the

Secret Practice For Cal Bears

Coach Ray Willsey put the Bears through a 150 - minute workout yesterday behind closed doors. Afterward, Willsey said injured fullback Frank Lynch appears physically fit but might not be able to play because of missed practices.

Giants Drop Lefthanders Henry, Hoeft

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Veteran left-handed pitcher Bill Henry has been released by the San Francisco Giants who said he would get a chance to get back on the roster when spring training opens in February.

The 38-year-old Henry was used as a short reliever who pitched mainly to southpaw batters. He was brought in 12 times last season to pitch to only one man. Henry finished the year with a 1-1 record and an earned-run average of 2.49.

The Giants also announced yesterday the release of veteran Billy Hoeft, another left-handed pitcher. He was picked up near the end of the season after being released by the Chicago Cubs.

The Giants also assigned first baseman and pinch hitter Bob Burda to Phoenix of the Pacific Coast League and purchased the contracts of 10 of their minor leaguers—six of them pitchers.

From Phoenix came Frank Kasheta, 10-8 with a 2.81 ERA, and Nestor Chavez, 7-5.

From Decatur of the Midwestern League came Jesse Huggins, 12-11, and Ron Bryant, 5-13.

From Waterbury of the Eastern League will come Dick Sparks, 14-9 with a 2.40 ERA, and from Fresno of the California League, Hal Jeffcoat, 15-7.

Four non-pitchers will move up from Fresno: First baseman DeGold Francis, who batted .300, hit 32 homers and drove in 115 runs; second baseman Bruce Hicks, who batted .316 and batted in 100 runs; third baseman Allan Gallagher, who hit .316, and shortstop Cesar Guiterrez, who batted .338.

49ers By 10; Chris Can't Believe It

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Coach Jack Christiansen finds it hard ot believe that his San Francisco 49ers are 10 - point favorites over the Atlanta Falcons going into their National Football League game next Sunday.

For one thing, Atlanta's only victory in the club's history came during the exhibition season when they won 24-17 over the 49ers.

"I think those odds are made by people who don't know an awful lot about pro football," Christiansen said yesterday. "I think we should be favored, but not by as much as 10 points."

Christiansen said the Falcons have a solid running attack with "Junior Coffey and Ernie Wheelwright, who look like they both go about 230-240 pounds and they run over people. Certainly they ran over us.

"We were pretty sloppy tackling last time and they broke out of several tackles," Christiansen continued. "I think we're going to put in some added time on tackling drills this week."

Offensive guard John Thomas of the 49ers was outfitted with a light cast on his right hand and should be able to play in Atlanta. He broke the hand last Sunday in the first quarter of the game against Green Bay eventually won 21-20 by San Francisco.

Drake Quarterback's Rally Earns Prep Of Week Honor

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Drake High School football coach Bob Franceschini, before the season got underway, said a lot of the Pirates' success would depend on a junior quarterback by the name of Don Stone.

In Drake's first Marin Athletic League game, Stone completed only 2 of 21 passes and Tamalpais High School beat the Pirates, 26-13. Then in the next Drake game, last Saturday against Novato, Stone made good on 8 of 17.

Two of those eight completions were good for fourth quarter touchdowns, the first one tying the game and the second one winning it. It was this comeback play that earned Stone the nod as the Independent-Journal's Prep of the Week.

It was apparent to all observers that Stone had to rush all his passes in the game against Tam. The Pirates' pass blocking was bad and every time Stone dropped back all he could see were opposing linemen charging in on him.

BETTER BLOCKING

Drake's pass blocking was altogether different last Saturday, especially in the fourth quarter when Stone tossed 11 and 52-yard touchdowns to flanker Karl Stein.

"The week before nine guys went both ways all through the game and they were tired," explained Stone. "This week it was cut down to four. They were able to hold up the blocking really well," he said, quick to hand out praise for his linemen who were overworked in the Pirates' first three games of the season.

A sophomore last year, Stone played junior varsity football as a quarterback and J.V. basketball as a forward-center. He was a sprinter on the track team and runs the 100-yard dash in 10.8. And since he has good size (6-2, 180), he does a double-duty as one of the team's top rushers, sending himself on sweeps around the ends, sometimes on keepers and other times on option plays.

Stone, who got his football start in the Pop Warner program for the Drake Junior Pirates, is also quite active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and attended the group's conference this past summer in Oregon.

Stone said he didn't do too much running when he was a quarterback on the frosh team, but last year on the J.V. level started to use the feet a little more. "Now I try to do a little of both," said Stone about his run-pass playing.

"I think we have a good chance at the title," he said. "This last game started us rolling and I think we'll keep rolling."

Don is hoping to make it into a service academy, either West Point or Annapolis. His father, Robert O. Stone, died two years ago after retiring from the Army as a Colonel. After a 30-year Army career, the late Robert Stone worked for American Express Co. in San Francisco. Don is now being raised by his mother at the family home at 22 Crane Drive, San Anselmo.

COMEBACK STAR—A great comeback that fired Drake to a 20-14 win over Novato last week earned Pirate quarterback Don Stone the Independent-Journal's Prep of the Week honor. Stone, after a 2 for 21 outing against Tamalpais, came back to fire two touchdown passes against Novato to give the Pirates their initial league win.

Qualifying Runs Begin For The Charlotte '500'

CHARLOTTE (AP) — With Fred Lorenzen not unexpectedly showing the way in early practice runs, the first batch of qualifiers was to be determined today for Sunday's $75,750 national 500-mile stock car race.

The first eight cars in a 44-car field were scheduled to qualify today, the same number that will qualify tomorrow and Friday.

Lorenzen, who won the race at 400 miles in 1964 and 1965, turned a lap of 149.418 miles an hour in a 1966 Ford Fairlane in setting the practice pace yesterday.

That was just short of the Charlotte Motor Speedway's four-lap qualifying record of 149.711 m.p.h. set by Richard Petty. Petty also holds the one-lap mark of 151.472.

Warriors Beat Westless Lakers In Exhibition Tilt

FRESNO (AP) — Rick Barry scored 33 points and Nate Thurmond hit 30 in leading the San Francisco Warriors to a 120-114 exhibition victory last night over a Los Angeles Lakers team which played most of the final half without injured guard Jerry West.

West, on the All-National Basketball Association team last year, suffered an ankle injury which Laker coach Fred Schaus said makes him a doubtful starter in the Lakers' regular season opener Saturday at Baltimore.

It came at the beginning of the third period and from that point on, San Francisco began to pull away from the Lakers—increasing its lead at one time to 14 points. The Warriors were down 61-60 at halftime.

Qualifying Rounds At Las Gallinas

Qualifying rounds were held at Las Gallinas Golf Course for the June putting tournament yesterday.

Mrs. Alton Edwards and Mrs. Al Newman were high for the day with 26 putts.

Other results were:

Cleo Pat Wins Feature Race

SAN MATEO (AP) — Cleo Pat caught Have Faith in the stretch and won by three-quarters length yesterday in the one-mile, $3,500 Clocker's Club Purse for fillies and mares at Bay Meadows.

Cleo Pat was timed in 1:38 3-5 and paid $7.60, $4.60 and $3.40 as the favorite. Have Faith returned $4.40 and $4. Miss Blueblood ran third in the nine-horse race for a $4 payoff.

San Rafael's Offense Gets A Stiff Test

When San Rafael and Terra Linda clash in a key Marin County Athletic League battle at San Rafael Friday night, it will be a clash of league leaders in more ways than just standings.

Both teams have 2-0 records to share the league lead but either the Trojans or the Bulldogs hold the statistical top spot in every team and individual category in the league after two weeks of loop action.

Ground-minded, defensively strong Terra Linda is tops in every team defensive statistics, and tops in rushing. San Rafael, offensively explosive, tops the passing and total yardage statistics and is second in pass defense and overall defense.

The one-two duo of quarterback Bill Joost and end Sam Crowell leads the individual passing vitals, with Joost hitting for 377 yards in two games on 29 completions in 46 attempts and three touchdowns while Crowell has hauled in 13 passes for 237 yards and three touchdowns to lead the pass receivers. Crowell is tied for the scoring lead with three touchdowns for 18 points, along with Joost and Karl Stein of Drake.

FRESHMEN JAYVEE FOOTBALL HIGHLIGHTS

Terra Linda, San Rafael, Drake Romp

By ROB HARVEY

Last Friday was a big day in freshman and junior varsity football circles.

Terra Linda's gridders went on a rampage, especially the defensive squad, and bombed the Redwood frosh, 48-0, on the Terra Linda field. It was the Trojan Babes' second Marin County Athletic League triumph in as many tries. Redwood is 0-2.

Trojan Dewey Forry scored touchdowns on a 50-yard pass interception and a 61-yard run and Mark Ferris scored three TD's, a 69-yard pass interception, a 75-yard punt return, and an 88-yard run. Rick Payne made good on a one-yard plunge, while Jon Wilson's 10-yard run ended the Terra Linda scoring spree.

The San Rafael frosh team, with outstanding line work from Dan Jordan, Kris Bonner and Jim Donovan, and the rushing of Bruce Maglione, increased its league mark to 2-0 with a 25-13 victory over Marin Catholic's freshman squad, at Marin Catholic. The WildKittens are winless in two league outings.

Offensive Novato stars Vince Lagoy, with a 51-yard touchdown sprint to his credit, gained 130 yards on 15 carries; Andy Spring gained over 50 yards. Mike Turner, quarterback, also played a good game. Lagoy's TD run was the longest gainer for either team. It was Novato's first league tussle; Drake is now 1-1.

Tamalpais lost a non-league game to St. Vincent's of San Rafael, 42-7.

JUNIOR VARSITY

San Rafael's junior Bulldogs topped Marin Catholic's jayvees, 12-6, at San Rafael. Ken Johnston intercepted a Marin Catholic pass and ran it back 40 yards for six points with 20 seconds remaining to provide the margin of victory, after scoring the first TD on a 25-yard pass from Harry Thorgenson.

Coach Tony Bailey's junior Redwood Giants stormed past Terra Linda, 39-13, at Redwood, as halfback Rob Dorinson scored three times on runs of 60, 30 and 25 yards.

Quarterback Pete Carroll passed for two Redwood touchdowns, one to Hal Pritchard and one to George Adams, both in the 45-yard range.

Bruce Jenkinson, a fullback, "did a great job on downfield blocking," Bailey said. He also commended defensive backs John Woodhull, Joe Royer and Bruce Jenkinson. They each picked off an interception after "really getting burned last week."

Novato and Drake played to a 12-12 stalemate, the Novato squad rallying for the tie in the waning minutes of play after Joe Thompson had staked the the junior Pirates to a 12-6 lead on an 8-yard strike from Ed Harrington.

Yomiuri Giants Win Japan 'Series' Opener

TOKYO (AP) — The Yomiuri Giants, Central League champions, defeated the Nankai Hawks, pennant winners in the Pacific League, 12-5 today to take the first game in Japan's World Series of baseball.

Like the U. S. World Series, the outcome is decided on a best-of-7 games.

South Wins Civil War Of Baseball

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The South, loser for 111 years, has emerged a victor in the Civil War over baseball.

Atlanta was told yesterday it could keep baseball's disputed Braves as Wisconsin turned to the U.S. Supreme Court in a bid to restore the sport to Milwaukee through expansion.

The triumph was trumpeted by two sentences in a hazy, hidden footnote at the bottom of the 13th page of Wisconsin's 38-page plea to the nation's highest court to hear the case.

The footnote, State Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette said, meant, Wisconsin is now asking only that Milwaukee be included in expansion plans for the (National) League."

The Boston-to-Milwaukee- to-Atlanta Braves, baseball's longest double play, went south for 1966 after 13 seasons in Milwaukee, Atlanta embraced them with 1.5 million fans, nearly triple the total turnout for their listless lame duck year in the North.

Baseball's abandonement of Milwaukee, first city to be deserted completely by the major leagues since 1903, led to the antitrust conviction in April that was overturned in a 4-3 vote by Wisconsin's own Supreme Court three months later.

The Milwaukee judge who returned the original conviction against the National League and its 10 clubs had ordered the Braves brought back from Atlanta if Wisconsin were not awarded a 1967 expansion team.

The brief footnote to the appeal Tuesday acknowledged that the suit at first "originally alleged" the Braves' move to Atlanta was illegal, but conceded that the State Supreme Court had decided it would never order the team to return because of reasons of state law.

Only federal issues may be argued before the U.S. Supreme Court. The reluctant surrender under state law freed the Braves forever to remain in Atlanta.

The Wisconsin court ruled that baseball was a monopoly, but said the state could not enforce its antitrust law against the sport because of previous U.S. Supreme Court decisions bestowing immunity from federal antitrust law.

The footnote, vague and indefinite in its wording, went unnoticed until La Follette revealed four hours after the filing in Washington yesterday that the state was not appealing quite all of the Wisconsin Supreme Court verdict.

HOLMAN

season started. Holman took over.

The Spartans lost to Stanford's comeback and to Brigham Young, but against Oregon, Holman came into his own. He completed 20 of 37 passes for 216 yards and two touchdowns, after completing only one, a 56-yard scoring aerial, in the first half.

In the first half against California, he was 11 for 25 for 126 yards and again finished with 20 for 37, gaining 216 yards and throwing for two touchdowns.

Holman said the quick switch from reserve to starter brought no great problems, adding, "I just worked a little harder and couldn't loaf.

Stan Harrington, Heilman In Draw

The referee and one judge saw the fight a 10-round draw while the other judge selected Harrington by two points.

Heilman, who comes from Fargo, N.D., but has been campaigning in Los Angeles, weighed 159¼. Harrington, of Honolulu, scaled 157¾.

Prospects Brighten For Pro Grid Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospects have brightened for legislation to permit merger of the National and American Football Leagues.

Fresh hope appeared yesterday when Rep. Emanuel Celler, chairman of an antitrust sub committee, indicated he could go along with a strictly limited antitrust exemption for an NFL-AFL merger.

But the New York Democrat and NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle must agree on the exact language for the exemption. And exchanges between the two at a subcommittee hearing yesterday indicated there could be some difficulties.

Celler asked Rozelle afterward to return Thursday for more questioning. The antitrust division of the Justice Department is to be represented at that session.

But Rozelle said that's all he wants.

After the hearing ended, Rozelle; his lawyer, Hamilton Carothers; Celler, and subcommittee counsel Kenneth J. Harkins met for about 15 minutes. Afterward, Celler said the two lawyers would try to work out the language for the exemption.

Problems are anticipated over specific subjects which might be excluded from the proposed law such as the player draft and the constitution and bylaws of the league.

Rozelle said during questioning by the subcommittee that the two leagues are considering the Rose Bowl in Pasadena as a site for the scheduled January playoff game between the two leagues.

But Rozelle has said that if Congress does not grant an immunity for the merger, he would recommend cancellation for both the merger and the playoff game.

Burst Of Strength For Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed with a mighty burst of strength today as it responded to a statement by Commerce Secretary John T. Connor that at present there are no indications of a need for wage and price controls to back the military effort in Viet Nam.

The market was down at the start as profits were taken on the two-day recovery from last

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.5 million shares compared with 8.44 million yesterday.

The list was down in early trading as profit-taking continued on a recovery from last week's selloff. As some issues steadied and resisted further selling the market moved back to an even keel by noon. It then advanced sharply.

IBM rose 6. Polaroid and Xerox gained 5 or better, Fairchild Camera 4.

Up about 3 were KLM Airlines and MSL Industries. Gains of 2 or better were scored by Du Pont, Pan American World Airways, Eastern Airlines, Northwest Airlines, Maganavox, Burroughs, General Instrument and Corning Glass.

All the leading motors and most of the top steelmakers were fractional gainers.

Up about a point were AT&T, Standard Oil (New Jersey), Texaco, Anaconda, Phelps Dodge, Homestake, Eastman Kodak, General Electric and Boeing.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Dividends Not Affected By Market Fluctuations

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I've been told that dividends remain the same regardless of the price fluctuations of a stock. Is this true?" A. B.

A. Yes, under normal conditions. Corporate profits are shared with stockholders by the payment of regular cash dividends. The amount of the dividend is determined by net income and the corporation's policy of paying out a percentage of its net earnings. This may range from 10 per cent to 75 per cent. So long as earnings are well maintained, the dividend is usually secure, despite daily price fluctuations.

But if earnings slide off and this continues, the price of the stock will decline. If the gap narrows between net earnings and the payout, doubt arises as to the safety of the dividend. If the stock continues to decline, the relation of its price to the dividend pushes up the yield, until the latter may arise above the interest rate paid on savings accounts and other fixed income investments.

Should a stock yield eight per cent in contrast to an average interest return of 4½ per cent, the higher yield is an danger signal. The next dividend declaration may be lowered; or if the corporation is facing some unexpected adversity, the dividend may be eliminated.

A. To become a member of the Exchange, it is necessary to buy a "seat." This is a personal franchise, purchased from someone already a member who intends to withdraw. But membership is not achieved automatically. A thorough study is conducted into the personal and business background of the applicant and the transfer of the seat must be approved by a two-thirds vote of the Board of Governors of the Exchange.

If approved, the member then receives the right to trade on the Exchange floor. The sale price of a seat runs high. One recently exchanged owners for $220,000.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Andersen Motor Inc. Returns To Owner's Former Location

It must be like old times for Mrs. Elsie Andersen of Novato. She and Alan Askin have moved Andersen Motor, Inc. (opened about 14 months ago) from 1117 to 1070 Grant Avenue where once she worked with her late husband at Andersen Chevrolet.

That business, of course, became Ted Schuman Chevrolet and the latter has recently moved to new showrooms on the Redwood Highway. Andersen Motor took over the old location last week. The company has acquired the Novato agency for International trucks and may take on a passenger car agency. Meanwhile used cars are being sold.

Supervisors Delay Decision On Surplus Store Roof Sign

After lengthy debate yesterday, Marin County supervisors delayed for six weeks decision on the application of Burt Capel for approval of a rooftop sign on his Marin Surplus Store in East San Rafael.

The six-by-13-foot, blue and white sign, to say "surplus — 1000's of items" would be 37 feet above ground level on the roof of Capel's new building at Simms and Jacoby streets.

The county planning commission recommended against the sign. Planning Director Paul C. Zucker said the commission wants an ordinance written banning all such signs, and doing away with existing ones through an amortization period.

Supervisors Ernest N. Kettenhofen and William A. Gnoss were in favor of granting the sign, but Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker insisted that the proposed ordinance be drawn first.

"You're just discriminating against this man," Kettenhofen said, noting that the county had earlier approved other rooftop signs in the neighborhood.

Gnoss noted that there were several rooftop signs in adjoining San Rafael.

"There is no sense in slipping to the lowest common denominator," Leydecker retorted. "The City of San Rafael will approve anything."

Capel said he needed the sign on the roof so it could be seen from Highway 101. Ned Parsons of the planning department said the sign would be difficult to see from the highway at best.

Kettenhofen moved that the Capel application be approved with the understanding that it come down along with other signs under the proposed ordinance, mentioning a three-year period of grace. Gnoss seconded, but the motion failed 2-1, with Leydecker dissenting and supervisors Thomas T. Storer and Peter H. Behr absent.

The motion to continue six weeks then passed 3-0.

Marin Couny Supervisors Yeserday Also:

1. Adopted a resolution asking the legislature to consider increasing rental allowances in the state welfare aid to families with dependent children.

2. Approved a letter to the state park commission protesting state bond money use in the purchae of Marin Municipal Water Ditrict land for addition to Mount Tamalpais State Park, saying the state should seek expansion of the park toward the sea with emphasis on purchase along the coast.

3. Awarded sale of $118.000 in San Anselmo School District construction bonds to the Bank of America, whose bid of 4.3302 per cent interest was the lowest of four opened yesterday.

4. Awarded sale of $40.025 in bonds for the Harvard-Princeton special assessment district, for street improvements south of Mill Valley, to Tannen, Winslow and Co., whose discount offer amounted to 6.16948 per cent, the lowest of four opened yesterday.

5. Delayed one week discussion of hiring consultants Touche, Ross, Bailey and Smart to do a $6,500 study aimed at curing ills in the data-processing department.

6. Approved payroll deductions for employees in the San Rafael Federal Credit Union.

7. Turned down the request of director Betty L. Priestley of the social services (welfare) department, for $382 to send one of her staff to the biennial meeting of state and county welfare staffs in Washington, D.C.

8. Amended the Marin City master plan to delete a volunteer design review board that has been inactive several months.

9. Rezoned a small parcel owned by Lawson's Inc. at Dillon Beach from commercial to agricultural. The change was inadvertantly omitted when a larger area was zoned for resort and commercial recreation.

10. Approved a steep driveway (34 per cent slope) at 213 Reed Street in Homestead Valley for Theodore Kirby. Public Works Director Donald R. Frost's recommendations for a turning area at the top and proper drainage facilities were included as conditions. Neighbors had protested the driveway.

11. Set 10 a.m., Nov. 15, for opening of bids on $650.000 in San Rafael School District bonds.

12. Rejected the $24.50 claim of Mrs. Ralph F. Sommer of 325 Pine Hill Road, Tamalpais Valley, for a plumbing bill in clearing of roots from a line. The roots, Mrs. Sommer said, came from a eucalyptus tree growing on county property.

13. Adopted a resolution requesting the postmaster general to issue a bi-centennial commemorative stamp next year in honor of Gov. Gaspar de Portola and Father Junipero Serra.

14. Awarded contract for landscaping around the family rehabilitation center on Lucas Valley Road to Cagwin and Dorward of San Rafael, whose $6.800 bid was the lowest of four received. County public works department estimate was $10.250.

15. Proclaimed next week "National Business Women's Week."

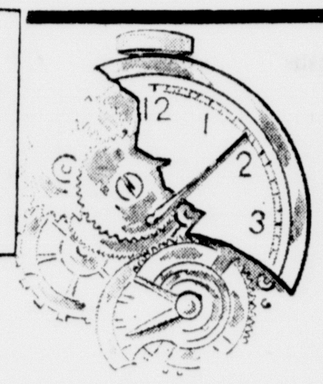

16. Adjourned at 6:20 p.m.

Drivers Fined $289 On Drunken Driving

Robert George Potter and Gilbert DeWayne Kibler were fined $289 each and placed on six months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Potter, 51, of 54 Edgewood Avenue, Mill Valley, was arrested by sheriff's officers on Tiburon Boulevard Oct. 2. Kibler, 49, of 615 Galerita Way, Santa Venetia, was arrested on Grand Avenue May 16 by San Rafael police.

Compromise Redwood Park Plan Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-Calif., proposed yesterday a compromise national redwood park and seashore plan in California which "will make jobs, not take jobs."

Clausen said his plan would include outstanding features of rival national park plans advocated by the Sierra Club and the Save The Redwoods League and include the 365,000 acres of the redwood industry recreation areas, tree farms and demonstration forests and the multiple use land management areas of the U.S. Forest Service.

Units would be connected by "conservation corridors."

"This entirely new proposal is designed for consideration as a job-saving and job-creating compromise to the long-standing redwood park dispute," Clausen said in a statement.

"For the past three years, this controversy has been the cause of economic instability throughout Northern California and the cause of insecurity among thousands of individuals, families and small business whose very livelihood depends upon forest products."

Clausen said his plan would include the natural beauty of the Smith River, the Stout Memorial and Founders Groves of Jedediah Smith State Park, the Del Norte Coast Park, a pastoral zone, Prairie Creek Redwood Park, Fern Canyon, the Roosevelt Elk Sanctuary, the Gold Bluff Wild Beach areas, the tall trees unit on Redwood Creek and completion of land acquisition and development of the Point Reyes National Seashore.

He proposed transfer of the federally owned Kings Range conservation area in southern Humboldt County to California to be administered with the Humboldt Redwood State Park.

"With this exchange," Clausen said, "the state of California can then develop a comprehensive redwood park recreation and seashore complex of its own located in Humboldt and Mendocino counties, in the heart of the Redwood Empire."

Clausen expects to devote much of an extensive speaking tour in the next few weeks to explaining his plan throughout California and inviting cooperation in working out details.

"I have tried to work impartially with conservation and forest products interests alike, constantly working toward the paramount objective of providing a liveable park plan of true national park quality," Clausen said.

He said his plan "offers a unique combination of accessible redwoods lands and seashores, extending for nearly 50 miles along the scenic north coast beaches."

Use Permit For Cocktail Bar Approved

Novato planning commission Monday night granted Albert Young a use permit to operate a cocktail lounge in the truck stop building on the east side of Highway 101, just south of Vallejo Avenue.

The commission set a hearing Oct. 24 on proposed zoning for 6.21 acres on the east side of Redwood Boulevard, north of Rowland Boulevard after Scottsdale Co., the developer, changed its request for retail commercial zoning to one for limited roadside business zoning.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

1. Set for Oct. 24 a hearing on Eugene McGillicuddy's request for rezoning five lots on the east side of Fifth Avenue, north of Grant Avenue from single-family residential to multiple residential and retail commercial.
2. Set hearing Oct. 24 on rezoning three acres between the Nave Shopping Center and Hill Junior High School from limited agricultural to residential and mobile homes.
3. Referred proposed sign ordinance to the commission's sign committee and instructed it to report Nov. 14 with a formal ordinance.
4. Extended for six months Floyd Alderman's permit to run a locksmith business in his home, 677 Olive Avenue.
5. Approved preliminary map for Robert Hune's two-lot subdivision on the east side of McClay Road, south of Center Road.
6. Approved preliminary map for Richard Cheda's land division on the east side of South Novato Boulevard, creating a 1.21 acre parcel for the neighboring Lutheran Church.

Santa Venetia Soldier Up For Viet Medal Of Valor

A 20-year-old Santa Venetia soldier has been recommended for a Medal of Valor in Viet Nam for his quick action in pulling a gravely wounded buddy back into an airborne helicopter while under fire from the Viet Cong.

Pfc. Edmund Obiedo Jr., whose parents, two younger brothers and sister live at 202 Vendola Drive, wrote his mother Oct. 2 to tell her he was in line to receive the "V" for valor to put on his air medal. He received the latter medal for his service as a helicopter gunner with the 129th Assault Helicopter Co.

The action for which he was recommended the medal came in late September when the Cong fired on a helicopter he was in, a bullet striking a crewmate. Obiedo pulled the wounded man back into the helicopter as he was on the verge of falling from the craft. He then applied first aid and managed to stem blood flowing from the soldier's neck wound.

Carburetor Removal Causes Auto Fire

Judge Can't Decide Fate For Houlihan

OAKLAND (AP) — A Superior Court judge said yesterday he could not decide whether to send former Oakland Mayor John C. Houlihan to prison or to county jail.

So, Judge Redmond C. Staatz called on the state Department of Corrections to make a 90-day psychological study of Houlihan to determine whether he is a good subject for probation. Houlihan, 56, pleaded guilty to looting an estate of nearly $100,000 after he was named as the attorney to conserve the assets of Mrs. Sarilla Whitlock, elderly widow of a Safeway Stores executive.

Glass Doors Removed

Leapin' Lena, 1911 Ford, To Be Raised From Grave

DETROIT (UPI) —Leapin' Lena was buried in 1926 under an apple tree in Perry Andrew's back yard.

She was 15 at the time, and buried because no one would promise Andrews to treat her in the manner to which she was accustomed.

Leapin' Lena was a 1911 model T Ford.

Bill Morris, Andrews' son-in-law, helped with the funeral:

"The old man wanted to give me Lena just after I married his daughter. But I wanted to remodel her and make her sporty. He said he'd rather bury Lena than see her ruined."

So he did.

"I didn't think about Lena for 30 years. My nephew asked about Lena and I told him what happened. He wrote to a radio commentator and he read the letter on the air."
